How To Pay For Progress

SIGNS OF STAGNATION. Empty storerooms and shabby buildings on the west side of the "Diamond" area of the business district point up the need for implementing plans for improvement of some sections of the downtown.

(This is another in a series of reports by Robert Popp, Review staff writer, on the East Liverpool comprehensive plan and how it is being implemented.)

By ROBERT POPP

Plans have been spelled out on paper for more than a year to revamp East Liverpool's appearance by a whole series of projects.

The first six-year program of capital improvements, discussed in an earlier article, calls for an overall outlay of $9,352,000.

While the proposed programs held the spotlight in center stage, there was a mumbling near the wings, as from a Greek chorus: "Who pays the bill? Who pays the bill?"

Carroll V. Hill & Associates, the professional planning concern which made the survey that produced the comprehensive development blueprint, included a financial study which attempts to answer that question.

IT ASSERTS that 76 per cent of the overall total, or $7,167,500, hopefully would be covered by federal and state assistance programs. It estimates that $330,000, or 3.5 per cent of the total, would come out of current city operating revenues.

That boils down to about $55,000 a year spread over a six-year period — still a lot of money to cut out of the municipality's available funds.

The planning firm says that $657,000 of the total, or 7 per cent, would come from special assessment bonds to be retired by charges against property - owners who would be benefited by various improvements. It proposes to levy assessments for street and sidewalk improvements and sewer projects—a standard practice.

The plan shows the special assessments would cost about $80,000 a year for each of the first three years and almost

3 Soviet Cosmonauts Land In Snow, Winds; 31 Below

MOSCOW (AP) — Three Soviet cosmonauts in the spaceship Soyuz 4 landed in the snow and howling winds about 1,500 miles southeast of Moscow today. The temperature at the landing site was 31 degrees below zero.

Soyuz 5 with cosmonaut Boris Volynov remained in orbit.

Tass news agency said the crew, two of whom had transferred to Soyuz 4 from Soyuz 5 after an orbital linkup Thursday, landed about 25 miles northwest of Karaganda in Kazakhstan.

It reported that villagers rushed through the snow with overcoats to protect the spacemen from the biting cold.

"How are you feeling, dear boys?" one asked them.

"No words can express it. . . . Very glad. Extremely happy," a cosmonaut replied.

The cosmonauts climbed aboard a helicopter and were flown into the steel-making city of Karaganda where they will be put up in the Chaika—Seagull—Hotel temporarily, Tass reported.

Tass said a recovery helicopter had first spotted the descending spaceship and a crewman shouted over the radio to ground control: "I can see them."

The first ship to land was commanded by Vladimir Shatalov, who was launched into orbit Tuesday. Two days later he was joined in his cabin by Alexei Yeliseyev and Yevgeny Khrunov, who climbed aboard from Soyuz 5—achieving the world's first crew transfer in orbit.

Radio Moscow said Volynov reported from space after the landing of his comrades that he "feels excellent." There was no immediate report on his plans for a return to earth.

Soyuz 4 docked in orbit Thursday with Soyuz 5, and then separated after transfer of the two crewmen. The feat was reported here as a step toward creation of long-term space laboratories.

The radio broadcast said Soyuz 4 landed in the "predetermined region" at 1:53 a.m.

Pickup Service?

Burglars apparently borrowed Bert Fishback's pickup truck to take a 25-inch color television set and a 7-horsepower riding mower from his residence off Route 267, East Liverpool Rd.

The truck was in the garage, but there was evidence it had been driven when Larry Callen, the owner's son, discovered the break - in Thursday evening and notified the sheriff's office.

Fishback is in Florida. Callen last checked the house Tuesday. He told officers the TV was worth $900 and the mower $600.

Sheriff's Deputies Robert Wellington and Dan Gartland said entry was gained by forcing open a 23-by-33-inch aluminum storm window on the southwest side of the house.

Plans No Policy Alteration

Nixon Vows 'Purposeful' Pursuit Of Viet Peace Bid

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (AP) — President-elect Nixon has pledged himself to purposeful and energetic pursuit of the Vietnam peace negotiations, without signaling any policy alteration in that quest.

His statement on Saturday's coming resumption of the Paris peace talks was brief and little more than a formality.

The break in the procedural deadlock which had stalled the talks was a prenauguration bonus for the incoming administration.

Nixon, working and relaxing at Key Biscayne, at first indicated through a spokesman that he would have nothing to say on the matter. Later he issued this statement:

"I am pleased that new talks can now begin in Paris. My administration will pursue these talks with energy and purpose."

The presdent-elect will wind up his four-day Florida respite and fly to New York tonight, his inaugural address presumably all but ready for Monday's ceremony.

He has made no public appearances and has been reported at work daily on the speech he will deliver from the steps of the Capitol as the nation's 37th president.

Nixon announced Thursday his selection of George A. Lincoln, a retired brigadier general and professor at the U.S. Military Academy, to become director of the Office of Emergency Planning.

He has since served periodically as an adviser to the Pentagon and the White House on military assstance, defense equipment and manpower and related topics.

U.S. Troop Withdrawal Is Discussed

Bunker, Abrams Confer With South Vietnam President

SAIGON (AP) — U. S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker and Gen. Creighton W. Abrams, the U.S. military commander in Vietnam, conferred today with President Nguyen Van Thieu on U.S. troop withdrawals and a possible cease-fire in light of the break in the peace talks deadlock.

The meeting took place less than 24 hours after an announcement from Paris that the United States, North Vietnam, South Vietnam and the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front will begin four-way talks Saturday.

Earlier, the U.S. Air Force disclosed it is reviewing its contingency plans for a troop withdrawal or a cease-fire.

One source said the meeting was "pretty high level stuff," also attended by Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky and Foreign Minister Tran Chanh Thanh. The informant said the leaders discussed "a whole spectrum of things" for nearly two hours.

Topics included:

—Withdrawal of American troops, how many and how soon.

—A truce, which could mean a total cease-fire, a partial cease-fire or a "cease-fire in place." The latter means all troops would simply stay where they are, without mounting any new operations or continuing any old ones.

—How to retaliate if the enemy should attack Saigon during the new negotiations. "In other words," said the source, "would this mean an automatic resumption of bombing North Vietnam?"

—The demilitarized zone.

Ky, supervisor of South Vietnam's Paris delegation, is scheduled to return to Europe early next week.

U. Alexis Johnson, undersecretary of state for political affairs in the incoming Nixon administration, canceled a scheduled meeting with Thieu later today. A spokesman for the U.S. Mission said he had a bad case of flu.

Johnson has been conferring with top American and South Vietnamese officials since Wednesday. He is scheduled to leave for Washington Saturday to report his findings to President-elect Nixon, but the spokesman said his departure may be delayed by his illness.

Thawing Ice, Rain Posing Flood Threat

CINCINNATI (AP) — Thawing ice on the Ohio River and its arteries continued to pose a flood threat today for the Ohio River Valley as warmer temperatures and rain moved in over the state.

The Weather Bureau's River Forecast Center at Cincinnati said an advisory - alert issued Thursday would remain in effect through Saturday:

"All interests along the Ohio River and the tributaries should remain alert to the potentially dangerous ice situation . . . . The ice jams may become severe enough to cause bankfill conditions."

Temperatures ranging into the 40s and 50s were forecast for most of Ohio today and light rains were expected to cover almost all areas.

Warm temperatures coupled with rain could provide a formula which might break tons of ice sheets — causing the rivers to overflow, the Forecast Center said.

Rivermen were keeping watch on the Scioto in Central Ohio, the Great Miami and Little Miami in Southwest Ohio, and the Sandusky in the northern part of the state.

The rivers, however, remained well below flood stage early today.

Agreement Vague And Ambiguous

Diplomats In Paris Expect Progress To Be Slow, Tortuous

BULLETIN

PARIS (AP) — American and North Vietnamese officials inspected and approved today a set of three tables provided by the French for the opening of the Vietnam peace talks, which are expected to be slow and tortuous.

PARIS (AP) — The Vietnam talks will begin anew Saturday under an agreement so vague and ambiguous as to becloud any participant's claim of victory. But new wrangling lies ahead, and few here expect progress toward peace to be anything but slow and tortuous.

The vagueness of the arrangements for the first enlarged meeting appeared to have been deliberate. The solution to an obstacle which held up this phase of the talks for more than two months centered about the arrangement of one large table and two small ones in the International Conference Center.

The French government has been asked to produce a big round table suitable for seating 16 delegates around it at one time, and two small rectangular tables, each 5½ feet long and three feet wide. The small tables will be placed at opposite sides of the big table, exacly 18 inches from its edges.

The South Vietnamese government can point to this table arrangement as actually providing the dividing line between two sides which it has demanded, and can even claim that the arrangement cuts the conference room in half.

North Vietnam and its ally, the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front, can point to the fact that their original round table idea has been accepted, and that thus they consider the conference four-sided.

What appears to have taken place in the long weeks of bargaining is a vindication of the slogan of W. Averell Harriman, the departing chief U.S. negotiator, who pictures himself a champion of "open covenants secretly arrived at."

"The arrangement is exactly as we wanted it to be," Harriman said. "We will always consider it a two-sided conference. The other side considers it a four-party conference. We did not give in and we did not expect them to give in. Meanwhile, we can go ahead and do business."

But it seems clear that each side had to surrender something.

North Vietnam dropped its insistence on the drawing of lots by the four parties for a speaking order. As Hanoi envisioned it, this process would have indicated equal status for the Liberation Front with the Saigon government.

Saigon dropped its insistence on a visible mark across the table to indicate two sides, and pictured the table arrangement which emerged Thursday as "the nearest we could get to the two sides that we have been fighting for."

$35.5 Million In New Revenue

Moore's Proposals Stun Lawmakers

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — Gov. Arch A. Moore Jr.'s proposal - packed legislative message on his fourth day in office stunned West Virginia lawmakers, many of whom expected a minimum of firm recommendations padded with generalities about bipartisan cooperation.

Addressing a joint session of the Democrat-bossed legislature, the Republican governor let fly Thursday with a string of program recommendations that added up, by his figures, to a need for almost $35.5 million in new revenue next fiscal year.

Then Moore laid out his financing plan. It jolted business and industry because he proposed raising about $37 million by revoking — "for one year only"— A series of consumers sale tax exemptions which they now enjoy.

TRYING to comprehend what Moore already had said in the rapid - fire, 40-minute speech, some legislators did not even hear the stinger he withheld until the last sentence.

In it he announced he will not be through with the legislature for this year when the current 60-day session ends in March, but plans to recall it in special session the second week in July "for further consideration of the business of the people of West Virginia."

Except for possibily $8 million in what are apparently one-time

Local Man And Area Girl 'Serious' After Cars Ram

An East Liverpool man and a Lisbon area girl are both in "serious" condition at Presbyterian University Hospital, Pittsburgh, with injuries received in a head-on collision early this morning on old Route 30.

The Ohio Highway patrol at Lisbon said a northbound 1967 coach operated by Miss Maureen E. Bell, 18, of Lisbon RD 5 and a southbound 1966 sedan driven by Ira E. Keener, 50, of 351 Ogden St. collided head-on in the southbound lane at 12:50.

Keener, a former employe of The Review and now working at the Youngstown Vindicator, suffered a possible fractured skull, lacerations of the chin and a fractured jaw.

Miss Bell, a daughter of Maurice Bell, also suffered a possible fractured skull, abrasions of the left knee and shock. She is a clerk in the office of County Recorder John P. Wargo at Lisbon.

The accident is still under investigation.

The patrol car dispatched to the scene was involved in a mishap en route.

Patrolman Norman L. Carroll Jr., 24, of 251 S. Lincoln St., Lisbon, called from the Salem area to investigate the accident, was driving on Chestnut St., Lisbon, about 27 feet east of Market St. at 1:24 a. m. when he lost control of the patrol car on the icy pavement as he was turning east and it struck a

Youth Faces 'Evaluation' In Vandalism

LISBON — A 16-year-old Salem youth admitted in Juvenile Court this morning that he flooded Salem Senior High School Dec. 13 and took valve cores from Salem school bus tires Dec. 12.

James D. Primm Jr., court-appointed defense counsel, asked probation for the youth.

Counsel and Prosecuting Atty. J. Warren Bettis both agreed with Judge Louis Tobin's suggestion that the boy be sent to the Juvenile Diagnostic Center for evaluation.

"This is a grave matter; it is my understanding that a great amount of damage was caused," Judge Tobin said. "In justice to the boy and the public generally, the court must have more information on what makes this boy tick; why a boy who is going to be 17 in February would commit these destructive acts."

Judge Tobbin committed the boy temporarily to the Ohio Youth Commission and continued the matter of probation until a report is received from the diagnostic center.

The boy was returned to the juvenile detention room at the County Jail until he can be taken to Columbus.

A 17-year-old Salem youth involved in removing valves from the tires of buses was sentenced Tuesday in Juvenile Court. He was ordered to pay $76 for damages, apologize to the bus drivers and school authorities and spend five days in detention.

Youth Faces 'Evaluation' In Vandalism

LISBON — A 16-year-old Salem youth admitted in Juvenile Court this morning that he flooded Salem Senior High School Dec. 13 and took valve cores from Salem school bus tires Dec. 12.

James D. Primm Jr., court-appointed defense counsel, asked probation for the youth.

Counsel and Prosecuting Atty. J. Warren Bettis both agreed with Judge Louis Tobin's suggestion that the boy be sent to the Juvenile Diagnostic Center for evaluation.

"This is a grave matter; it is my understanding that a great amount of damage was caused," Judge Tobin said. "In justice to the boy and the public generally, the court must have more information on what makes this boy tick; why a boy who is going to be 17 in February would commit these destructive acts."

Judge Tobbin committed the boy temporarily to the Ohio Youth Commission and continued the matter of probation until a report is received from the diagnostic center.

The boy was returned to the juvenile detention room at the County Jail until he can be taken to Columbus.

A 17-year-old Salem youth involved in removing valves from the tires of buses was sentenced Tuesday in Juvenile Court. He was ordered to pay $76 for damages, apologize to the bus drivers and school authorities and spend five days in detention.

Eckert said the HUD officials stressed several points: "Workable programs" are important in obtaining funds; citizen participation in the programs is urged by federal officials, and some cities which need aid in their planning programs hire part-time help from larger communities nearby, rather than naming full - time employes.

The discussion showed that East Liverpool "is on a par with most cities of its size" in planning work, although its staff is not as large. Eckert said. He said a suggestion was made for the state government to provide field teams to help locate communities with their problems.

Another delegation that included Frank Mangano of the City Planning Commission attended a district meeting at Canton on administration of federal funds made available for police services and crime control.

Israel Fights Dependency

Whether your sympathies are with or against Israel, it is becoming increasingly difficult to deny the doughty little nation's indomitable spirit.

Israel has not been able to stand on its own feet altogether, as yet, though it is trying. It could, of course, do much better if it did not feel its very life is at stake and under attack from all sides by its Arab neighbors.

ITS INDEPENDENCE of action politically and diplomatically is now being matched, to a considerable degree, economically. The chief of the military industries has said that, in the area of military armaments and munitions: "We are now approaching a situation where we will not be dependent on outside sources."

Israeli leaders have been issuing comparable statements for the benefit of the Israeli people, who apparently are angered and bewildered by France's recent extension of the arms embargo it has imposed on Israel.

Citing numerous examples of how Israel is becoming militarily self-sufficient, the nation's authorities said the country now is producing all the weapons and equipment used by the Israeli Air Force and most of the ammunition and light weapons used by the army, as well as much of the artillery, all of the tank cannons and most of the electronic equipment.

In fact, the country's productive capacity has grown to the point that Israel actually is exporting arms.

Israel is not rolling over and playing dead before the huge pressures of the big nations. It is resisting embargoes, threats and other forms of coercion while continuing to pursue the course which it apparently believes it must—to survive.

ISRAEL IS NOT ALONE in this respect. Similar determination is seen in the secessionist fight of Biafra from Nigeria and the stalwart stand of Rhodesia in its battle for independence from Great Britain.

It seems to be part of the changing international scene for small nations to stand up staunchly — against the rest of the world if necessary.

The Struggle For Leadership

The civil rights movement is getting embroiled in another struggle over leadership and direction.

Increasing student demands for all-black study programs and housing facilities on America's campuses is bringing to a head the current phase of the continuing struggle.

ROY WILKINS, moderate leader and NAACP executive director, has lashed out at student demands labeling them "another version of segregation and Jim Crow."

He said: "We must be for change, yes. Reform, yes. Sharp alteration in methods, yes. Acceleration, yes. But separation, no."

Mr. Wilkins denounced students participating in the separatist campaign by declaring: "They ought to be in the libraries studying and getting degrees so they can do some good."

Among the whites involved in civil rights activity there has been a feeling that the separatist movement should be challenged but disagreement over what avenue opposition should take has resulted in inactivity.

Concern was widespread that an over-reaction from whites would give more status to the separatist crusade than it deserved.

Opposition, to have a chance to be effective, had to come from a Negro leader with the support of a large organization.

Mr. Wilkins and the NAACP fill the bill.

The message from the head of the nation's oldest and largest civil rights organization is for both white and blacks.

He said: "If some white Americans, torn and confused by today's clamor of some black students, should accede officially to the call for separate dormitories and autonomous racial schools within colleges and universities, there will be court action to determine anyone's right to use public tax funds to set up what are, patently, Jim Crow schools."

Courts, no doubt, will uphold integration if it comes down to a test, but the real issue here and now is who will be able to provide Negro leadership toward goals of equality in society.

Men like Mr. Wilkins and others of more or less moderate leanings are locked in a battle with extremists and militants who preach hatred and destruction.

THE ASSASSINATION of Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. a year ago has left a void as yet unfilled.

Whoever emerges in a strong leadership role will determine the future of black-white relations in America.

Hopefully it will be someone cast in the moderate role who can see wisdom in a course away from apartheid.

Action For Cleaner Air

The Department of Justice has, at long last, initiated legal action against the nation's four biggest automobile manufacturers, accusing them of conspiring to hold back the development of antipollution devices.

In filing a civil suit against General Motors, Ford, Chrysler and American Motors, the government listed a number of smaller manufactures as conconspirators and parties to the industrywide agreement.

The defendants, of course, deny the charges, contending they are developing the antipollution devices under a 15-year "cooperative program."

HOWEVER, THEIR CONTENTION, as expressed by Thomas C. Mann, president of the Automobile Manufacturers Association, that the industry "had done its best" is certainly open to challenge.

In charging the manufacturers with violating the Sherman Antitrust Act by agreeing to eliminate competition over methods of coping with automotive air pollution, the Department of Justice said that, as long ago as 1955, the manufacturers made a formal patent-licensing agreement which settled the terms on which they would deal with outside producers who tried to sell new antipollution devices to an individual auto maker.

The department can point to California where state regulations require "positive crankcase ventilation," and have since at least 1962, and ask why all cars manufactured since then have not had at least this degree of antipollution equipment.

And since 1962 improved antipollution equipment has been developed which could have been put into general use. But, the suit charges, it was not—due to an industrywide agreement.

Basically, the government contends that competition should have been given free play and that this would have brought cleaner air much sooner than the "cooperation" method advocated and being used by the manufacturers.

When it was competition which brought the "Big 4" auto makers to their present positions of strength, it seems rather unlikely that they would abandon it in favor of a controlled cooperation unless there was strong motivation of an ulterior nature.

THE WHOLE SITUATION smacks of the oft-heard story that the automobile industry long has conspired to keep an extremely economical carburetor off the market.

Denial of a minimum-gas-consuming carburetor could only hurt the American motorist in the pocketbook. But denying him the antipollutant devices hurts the health of untold numbers of his fellow citizens.

We wonder how long the public would tolerate automobiles with less than the best pollution-control devices available if all the carbon monoxide and other pollutants hurled into the air we breathe by the millions of automobiles were visible as a bright chartruse gas.

News Management

In the aftermath of the Pueblo incident, it is worth noting how the Soviet government manages the news so that the Russian people are told just what the government wants them to know and nothing more.

Pravda, the Soviet Communist party newspaper, informed its readers of the release of the Pueblo's crew, calling the North Korean's action a "humane act." But it said not one word about the brutal treatment accorded the American seamen by their North Korean captors—information which most of the rest of the world now is familiar with.

The Russian news media also told the people about the United States' apology to North Korea for the alleged intrusion of the Pueblo into North Korea's territorial waters. But it deliberately failed to tell them of the United States' prior repudiation of the apology.

The handling of this incident by the Russian government - controlled press is just another instance of perfidy by the Kremlin rulers who purposely permit half truths to be presented to the Russian people — half-truths which convey an entirely false picture of reality but which serve the Communists' purpose well.

Vitamins As A Sealant

Vitamin promoters and devotees will be pleased with the announced results of medical research in Great Britain which indicates that vitamins may become instrumental in curing rheumatoid arthritis.

The British researchers claim they have found the cause of rheumatoid arthritis and may be on their way to effecting a cure for the ailment by injecting vitamins into affected bone joints.

AS WITH ALMOST EVERY announcement of dramatic progress toward curing some disease, the caution was added that many tests and trials remain to be done. But the researchers did dare to say that, 'We can safely say a cure is coming."

The research team believes the rheumatoid form of arthritis is caused by enzymes escaping from the cells of the joint lining. This then eats away the cartilage tissue of the joint like an acid. Enzymes are proteins that produce a chemical reaction when they meet another chemical body.

Experiments have shown that two vitamins, C and K3, seal up the cell walls and are believed to correct an excess of tissue hydrogen, thought to be a key reason for leakage.

MONEY FOR THE RESEARCH was provided through a grant of $1.2 million, a gift of the American author, Terrence Kennedy.

It is another chapter in American philanthropy (teamed with British research) which may be expected to lead to the relief of pain in un-

Thoughts

Among the 20 largest cities in the world, population - wise, there are only two U. S. cities—New York and Chicago.

A kangaroo can jump as far as 42 feet and up to 10 feet high while it is running at speeds up to 30 miles an hour.

'All Of A Sudden He Looks Taller!'

The Cruel Farewell

By Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — Power, the opiate of the people who live in Washington, is starting to slip through the hands of the old administration and is being grabbed by the new. There are signs of the switch taking place every day. For example, recently I was at the Sans Souci restaurant, the place where the White House power structure usually has lunch.

Art Buchwald

One of President Johnson's aides came in and was escorted to his usual table. He sat there for two hours, alone. The person he was supposed to have lunch with never showed up.

The man I was eating with, who has lived through several administration changeovers in Washington, shook his head sadly and said, "The poor S.O.B. They're trying to tell him something."

"Is that how they usually do it?" I asked.

"SOMETIMES THEY CANCEL his table before he arrives. That way nobody knows he was stood up for lunch. This way, everybody knows. It will be all over town in an hour."

"But suppose the person he was supposed to have lunch with him just couldn't make it?"

"You don't understand. If you've got the power, the person makes it. Somebody else gets stood up. But if you don't have the power any more, then you get stood up. He's looking over here and smiling at us. Whatever you do, don't smile back."

"But he's my friend," I protested. "If he smiles at me, I'll have to smile back."

"He doesn't want you just to smile back. He wants you to invite him to sit with us so it doesn't look as if he's been stood up. We can't afford that."

"Why not?" I asked.

"You don't know anything about this town, do you? Suppose word got out that we had lunch with him—I mean just two weeks before inauguration."

"Well, heck, he's still a decent guy, even of he is on his way out."

"THAT'S NOT THE POINT, stupid," my friend said. "We have to deal with the new guys over at the White House, and if they think we have any ties with the old guys they won't trust us. If you still want to have something to do with that loser, meet him at a coffee shop, but don't get me involved. I've got my job to think of."

'Are you trying to tell me that the new guys wouldn't trust us if we bought an old administration guy a cup of coffee?"

"I'm trying to tell you that everyone in this restaurant is aware of what is going on. Sure, it would be a nice, brave, gutty thing to wave and say, 'Come on over for a brandy.' And there are probably a few people in the restaurant who would admire us for it. But most of the people in this restaurant feel exactly as I do. The guy came in here alone. Let him leave alone."

"It seems so cruel."

"Government is cruel," my friend said. "But he'll be all right. He'll probably get $100,000 a year when he gets out of the White House, not to mention an advance of half a million dollars on a book, plus lecture fees. He's not going to starve to death."

"BUT THE THOUGHT of nobody ever eating lunch with him. . ." I said.

"Couldn't I just go over to his table and say goodbye?" I asked.

"I wouldn't chance it. Herb Klein just came in." My friend waved wildly at Klein, Richard Nixon's new communications chief.

"Hiya, Herb, baby. How's the old boy?" My friend muttered to me, "Wave at him. Maybe he'll stop by the table for a minute. It won't hurt us if he does."

In the excitement, my friend from the White House got up from the table and left the restaurant. No one else in Sans Souci noticed he was gone.

Withdrawal Project

At last the Saigon government has begun to understand that it must take the responsibility for the defense of South Vietnam so the forces of the United States can be gradually withdrawn during the next year or two.

What President Mguyen Van Thi'u has in mind is to recommend an immediate withdrawal of "anywhere from 20,000 to 60,000 American troops," with a timetable for future withdrawals covering 150,000 to 200,000 men by the end of 1969. This is part of a major project which is directly related to the course of the peace negotiations in Paris.

UP TO NOW, the South Vietnamese government has given the impression that it did not know which direction the United States might be going at the peace table and it has seemed to be reluctant to speed up the negotiations because of a belief that maybe the Nixon administration would be more friendly to its cause.

What has not been realized by the South Vietnamese is that the antiwar critics in this country have gained considerable ground. There is a growing feeling that America should put the burden of defending South Vietnam on the Saigon regime.

The decision to work out a plan for the gradual withdrawal of the 540,000 American troops now in South Vietnam may turn out to be a factor in moving the Paris negotiations ahead when the envoys of the United States are ready to make a formal request for reciprocity.

For if 50,000 American troops are pulled out North Vietnam will have to agree to begin to of South Vietnam, the assumption here is that withdraw some of its forces.

The likehihood is that the United States will, in due time, point out that, since the bombing of North Vietnam has been terminated, it is logical that North Vietnam give an indication of its readiness to make peace.

While there has recently been a reduction in the intensity of the fighting, the United States faces a dilemma if it withdraws a large number of troops and then a major offensive is begun by the North Vietnamese.

It has been apparent that the South Vietnamese have not fully understood the aims of the United States in the Paris peace talks and have even questioned whether the American delegation would make some kind of agreement with Hanoi which would be a "sell-out."

The Saigon government now realizes that, in view of the pressure inside the United States for a peace settlement, there must be a definite program for replacing the American troops which will have been withdrawn, and that there must also be some sign from Hanoi that it will not resume the big offensives which have been carried on in the past.

President Thieu's proposal to recruit more troops to offset the reduction in United States forces has made a favorable impression in Washington. Some of the military men here accept the theory that South Vietnam can build a large army to take over the task of defending their country but it isn't clear to them how soon such a program could really become effective.

From the point of view of the United States, however, once South Vietnam is assured of continued financial support and a supply of munitions and equipment, it would be feasible to start the gradual withdrawal of American forces.

If the exodus were planned over a two-year period, there would be time to observe whether the North Vietnamese were plotting to take advantage of the move and build up for renewed offensives. If this happened, there would be a resumption of the war on a bigger scale and perhaps the retention of a large body of American troops to assist the South Vietnamese.

THE BELIEF PREVAILS here that North Vietnam has been hurt considerably by the war and is ready for some kind of peace agreement. But nothing really can be decided until the new administration in Washington takes office.

The important thing at the moment is that the United States and the South Vietnamese governments have come to an understanding in principle, and it is expected that within the next few weeks the details of the formula will be worked out.

This, in turn, will permit South Vietnam to participate in the Paris talks with more confidence than it has had heretofore.

Israel Fights Dependency

Whether your sympathies are with or against Israel, it is becoming increasingly difficult to deny the doughty little nation's indomitable spirit.

Israel has not been able to stand on its own feet altogether, as yet, though it is trying. It could, of course, do much better if it did not feel its very life is at stake and under attack from all sides by its Arab neighbors.

ITS INDEPENDENCE of action politically and diplomatically is now being matched, to a considerable degree, economically. The chief of the military industries has said that, in the area of military armaments and munitions: "We are now approaching a situation where we will not be dependent on outside sources."

Israeli leaders have been issuing comparable statements for the benefit of the Israeli people, who apparently are angered and bewildered by France's recent extension of the arms embargo it has imposed on Israel.

Citing numerous examples of how Israel is becoming militarily self-sufficient, the nation's authorities said the country now is producing all the weapons and equipment used by the Israeli Air Force and most of the ammunition and light weapons used by the army, as well as much of the artillery, all of the tank cannons and most of the electronic equipment.

In fact, the country's productive capacity has grown to the point that Israel actually is exporting arms.

Israel is not rolling over and playing dead before the huge pressures of the big nations. It is resisting embargoes, threats and other forms of coercion while continuing to pursue the course which it apparently believes it must—to survive.

ISRAEL IS NOT ALONE in this respect. Similar determination is seen in the secessionist fight of Biafra from Nigeria and the stalwart stand of Rhodesia in its battle for independence from Great Britain.

It seems to be part of the changing international scene for small nations to stand up staunchly — against the rest of the world if necessary.

The Struggle For Leadership

The civil rights movement is getting embroiled in another struggle over leadership and direction.

Increasing student demands for all-black study programs and housing facilities on America's campuses is bringing to a head the current phase of the continuing struggle.

ROY WILKINS, moderate leader and NAACP executive director, has lashed out at student demands labeling them "another version of segregation and Jim Crow."

He said: "We must be for change, yes. Reform, yes. Sharp alteration in methods, yes. Acceleration, yes. But separation, no."

Mr. Wilkins denounced students participating in the separatist campaign by declaring: "They ought to be in the libraries studying and getting degrees so they can do some good."

Among the whites involved in civil rights activity there has been a feeling that the separatist movement should be challenged but disagreement over what avenue opposition should take has resulted in inactivity.

Concern was widespread that an over-reaction from whites would give more status to the separatist crusade than it deserved.

Opposition, to have a chance to be effective, had to come from a Negro leader with the support of a large organization.

Mr. Wilkins and the NAACP fill the bill.

The message from the head of the nation's oldest and largest civil rights organization is for both white and blacks.

He said: "If some white Americans, torn and confused by today's clamor of some black students, should accede officially to the call for separate dormitories and autonomous racial schools within colleges and universities, there will be court action to determine anyone's right to use public tax funds to set up what are, patently, Jim Crow schools."

Courts, no doubt, will uphold integration if it comes down to a test, but the real issue here and now is who will be able to provide Negro leadership toward goals of equality in society.

Men like Mr. Wilkins and others of more or less moderate leanings are locked in a battle with extremists and militants who preach hatred and destruction.

THE ASSASSINATION of Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. a year ago has left a void as yet unfilled.

Whoever emerges in a strong leadership role will determine the future of black-white relations in America.

Hopefully it will be someone cast in the moderate role who can see wisdom in a course away from apartheid.

Action For Cleaner Air

The Department of Justice has, at long last, initiated legal action against the nation's four biggest automobile manufacturers, accusing them of conspiring to hold back the development of antipollution devices.

In filing a civil suit against General Motors, Ford, Chrysler and American Motors, the government listed a number of smaller manufactures as conconspirators and parties to the industrywide agreement.

The defendants, of course, deny the charges, contending they are developing the antipollution devices under a 15-year "cooperative program."

HOWEVER, THEIR CONTENTION, as expressed by Thomas C. Mann, president of the Automobile Manufacturers Association, that the industry "had done its best" is certainly open to challenge.

In charging the manufacturers with violating the Sherman Antitrust Act by agreeing to eliminate competition over methods of coping with automotive air pollution, the Department of Justice said that, as long ago as 1955, the manufacturers made a formal patent-licensing agreement which settled the terms on which they would deal with outside producers who tried to sell new antipollution devices to an individual auto maker.

The department can point to California where state regulations require "positive crankcase ventilation," and have since at least 1962, and ask why all cars manufactured since then have not had at least this degree of antipollution equipment.

And since 1962 improved antipollution equipment has been developed which could have been put into general use. But, the suit charges, it was not—due to an industrywide agreement.

Basically, the government contends that competition should have been given free play and that this would have brought cleaner air much sooner than the "cooperation" method advocated and being used by the manufacturers.

When it was competition which brought the "Big 4" auto makers to their present positions of strength, it seems rather unlikely that they would abandon it in favor of a controlled cooperation unless there was strong motivation of an ulterior nature.

THE WHOLE SITUATION smacks of the oft-heard story that the automobile industry long has conspired to keep an extremely economical carburetor off the market.

Denial of a minimum-gas-consuming carburetor could only hurt the American motorist in the pocketbook. But denying him the antipollutant devices hurts the health of untold numbers of his fellow citizens.

We wonder how long the public would tolerate automobiles with less than the best pollution-control devices available if all the carbon monoxide and other pollutants hurled into the air we breathe by the millions of automobiles were visible as a bright chartruse gas.

News Management

In the aftermath of the Pueblo incident, it is worth noting how the Soviet government manages the news so that the Russian people are told just what the government wants them to know and nothing more.

Pravda, the Soviet Communist party newspaper, informed its readers of the release of the Pueblo's crew, calling the North Korean's action a "humane act." But it said not one word about the brutal treatment accorded the American seamen by their North Korean captors—information which most of the rest of the world now is familiar with.

The Russian news media also told the people about the United States' apology to North Korea for the alleged intrusion of the Pueblo into North Korea's territorial waters. But it deliberately failed to tell them of the United States' prior repudiation of the apology.

The handling of this incident by the Russian government - controlled press is just another instance of perfidy by the Kremlin rulers who purposely permit half truths to be presented to the Russian people — half-truths which convey an entirely false picture of reality but which serve the Communists' purpose well.

Vitamins As A Sealant

Vitamin promoters and devotees will be pleased with the announced results of medical research in Great Britain which indicates that vitamins may become instrumental in curing rheumatoid arthritis.

The British researchers claim they have found the cause of rheumatoid arthritis and may be on their way to effecting a cure for the ailment by injecting vitamins into affected bone joints.

AS WITH ALMOST EVERY announcement of dramatic progress toward curing some disease, the caution was added that many tests and trials remain to be done. But the researchers did dare to say that, 'We can safely say a cure is coming."

The research team believes the rheumatoid form of arthritis is caused by enzymes escaping from the cells of the joint lining. This then eats away the cartilage tissue of the joint like an acid. Enzymes are proteins that produce a chemical reaction when they meet another chemical body.

Experiments have shown that two vitamins, C and K3, seal up the cell walls and are believed to correct an excess of tissue hydrogen, thought to be a key reason for leakage.

MONEY FOR THE RESEARCH was provided through a grant of $1.2 million, a gift of the American author, Terrence Kennedy.

It is another chapter in American philanthropy (teamed with British research) which may be expected to lead to the relief of pain in un-

WASHINGTON — Power, the opiate of the people who live in Washington, is starting to slip through the hands of the old administration and is being grabbed by the new. There are signs of the switch taking place every day. For example, recently I was at the Sans Souci restaurant, the place where the White House power structure usually has lunch.

One of President Johnson's aides came in and was escorted to his usual table. He sat there for two hours, alone. The person he was supposed to have lunch with never showed up.

Days Become 'Little Sad,' Johnson Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — "It's been a little sad for me the last few days," says President Johnson, whose final hours in the White House are turning into one long farewell.

But as the President makes the rounds of goodbye receptions, for him and for trusted associates, he insists that he has no regrets about leaving office.

Striking Guild Okays AP Pact

NEW YORK (AP) — Striking members of the Wire Service Guild return today to work at The Associated Press after voting to accept a three-year contract offer.

The union had been on strike for eight days. Basic AP news and photo services had continued uninterrupted. The decision to return was announced Thursday night.

Guild officials did not give exact results of the balloting which was conducted for bureaus throughout the country. End of the strike was announced before tabulating was completed, but unofficial sources sad that with a majority of the tally in, the vote was running about two-to-one in favor of acceptance.

Members of the union's bargaining committee had recommended rejection of the management proposal. The vote came less than 12 hours after members of the United Telegraph Workers resumed work. UTW members, who operate teleprinters and maintain other equipment, had refused to cross Guild picket lines since the strike began at 8 a.m., Jan. 9.

Bill Would Curb Campus Disorder

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A bill aimed at curbing disruption on Ohio campuses has been introduced in the legislature by Republican Sens. Harry L. Armstrong of Logan and James K. Leedy of Wooster.

Under provisions of the bill, university officials would be permitted to oust from the campus any person, other than a student, officer or employe, if it appears there is any intent on the part of any person to commit an act which would interfere with orderly campus and education procedures.

Students, faculty members and nonteaching employes, under the bill could be suspended until a hearing board determines guilt or innocence in cases where these persons "direct, incite, encourage or participate" in campus disturbances.

Judge Suggests Frequent Checks On School Buses

The Board of Education should arrange daily inspections of school buses, if necessary, to assure they are in safe condition, Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff commented today from the bench after a school bus driver cited in a mishap by the Ohio Highway Patrol blamed faulty air brakes.

Richard E. Higgins, 34, of 835 Laura Ave. was fined $25 and costs on the patrol's charge of failure to stop in the assured clear distance in a crash in which the bus loaded with 52 children hit the rear of a halted auto at 8:42 a. m. Thursday on W. 8th St. The auto was operated by Kenneth R. Derenburger, 38, of 713 Laura Ave. No one was hurt.

Derenburger told the patrol he had halted behind another car which had slowed. Then, he said, his car was hit from the rear by the bus.

Questioned by the judge, Higgins said the air brakes of the bus failed at the moment of the mishap. He said he had descended the St. Clair Ave. grade a few moments earlier and the brakes functioned properly. He pleaded "no contest" on the patrol charge.

"This frightens me—an accident involving a fully - loaded school bus," the judge said. "The school board should be sure those buses are examined each day, if necessary. The safety of children is at stake." He added that he hopes the school board pays the fine that was imposed on Higgins.

Nixon Assigns Agnew To Serve As Liaison

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

The American elk, once near extinction in Yellowstone Park, had to be saved both from its natural predator, the wolf, and from itself. To aid the elks' survival, the wolf was eliminated from the park. However, the increasing number of elk born into the unchallenged existence overburdened grazing lands and caused starvation. Some 2,000 elk are relocated annually to restore the necessary balance.

Moore

items. Moore's program would constitute a continuing expense. His request to finance it with a tax measure effective for only one year therefore drew some barbs.

"What the hell is he going to do the second year?" asked House Speaker Ivor F. Boiarsky D-Kanawha.

—:—

MOORE'S recommendations included:

— Enactment of his campaign-promised boost of $1,000 across the board in yearly salaries of public school teachers, plus increased outlays for school supporting services. Cost: $23.6 million.

—Free tuition for West Virginia teachers attending summer school at state - supported universities and colleges.

— Exemption of physician - prescribed drugs from the consumers retail sales tax, described by Moore as a "first step" in fulfilling a campaign proposal to remove the 3-percent tax from groceries and drugs.

— Appropriation of $5 million for use, on a 50-50 basis with counties, in eliminating road hazards such as one - way bridges and improving airports. Highway financing has been exclusively a state responsibility since the 1930s.

—:—

— IMPROVEMENT of "the ability of cities and towns to support needed local improvements" by passage of legislation giving "every municipality the right to levy any and all taxes that are presently the exclusive authority of state government to levy and for which we have the constitutional right to give such taxing authority."

— Legislation to give municipalities rebates or exemption for taxes paid on gasoline for municipal vehicles.

— Legislation for issuance of the first $70 million in road bonds under the $350-million authorization appropriations approved in the November election and for issuance of another $20 million under the $200-million road bond authorization voted in 1964.

— Appropriation of $1,767,500, for improvements at 26 state parks and recreation areas.

— Appropriation of $1,117,000 for improvements at the Colin Anderson Center for retarded children, including building and equiping six cottage - type units, a community center and three staff houses; heating system renovation, fire alarm installation and a laundry addition.

Planning

$130,000 annuallly for the last three years of the budget period.

A total of $125,000, or 1.4 per cent, would come out of the sewer department's reserve and improvement fund and $702,500, or 7.5 per cent, would be raised from sale of general obligation or mortgage revenue bonds. Mortgage revenue bonds can be issued for money - producing projects such as off - street parking lots. The receipts are pledged to pay off the principal and interest in annual increments.

—:—

THE REMAINING $370,000, or 4 per cent, needed for the six-year program, would come from councilmanic bonds, the planning firm proposes.

So, although the plan proposes that only $330,000 of the money would come direct from city operating revenue, local funds would pay a $2,184,500 share of the bill. That represents the difference between the overall cost of $9,352,000 and federal and state aid of $7,167,500.

Local funds would pay the debt in various ways, either in special assessments levied against certain property-owners; in charges for utilization of parking lots or in higher tax rates to retire general obligation bond issues.

The municipality's bonding capacity could be increased by transferring the outstanding sewer revenue bonds to the sewer department, which would make the principal and interest payments from its revenue, the plan proposes. This would give the municipality an additional $120,000 in borrowing power, it adds.

Since the city is retiring its current debt at $60,000 to $70,000 a year, it should be in a position by 1970 to borrow money for its $70,000 share of improving Maine Blvd. and connecting streets, the plan says.

IF DEBT payments after 1969 remain at the $70,000-a-year average the city would have $836,000 in borrowing power by 1970 to borrow money for its $70,000 share of improving Maine Blvd. and connecting streets, the plan says.

But, it adds, the city should have enough borrowing capacity in the latter stages of the six-year program to finance the estimated $300,000 local share for extension of the Freeway to Mulberry St. and for parts of a beautification program for the central business district and an urban renewal program between the riverfront and 3rd St.

The discussion of capital improvements concludes with some comments on financing major projects:

"Can the city of East Liverpool develop a program for public works that is in scale with its ever - increasing needs for a wide variety of community facilities?

—:—

"THE ANSWER to this question will depend largely on whether or not the officials and residents of the city were willing to tap additional revenue sources and possibly to incur additional debt obligation.

"This is an inescapable conclusion. Communities that are trying to build for tomorrow cannot achieve this with a financial policy geared for yesterday.

The City Planning Commission should play an active role annually in the preparation of the city's capital budget. However, the Planning Commission's recommendations are only advisory in nature and are not binding upon City Council. Each year the Planning Commission should review the budget carefully to keep it in harmony with the changing picture of municipal needs and finances.

"However, it should be stressed that the six - year capital budget obviously can become a meaningful tool only if annual appropriations are made that conform more or less to the six - year program.

"THE PROBLEM of gaining citizen support for a program of public works that must of necessity cost money involves stirring the imagination of the citizens so that they begin to look to the future and to new parks, cultural facilities and other community assets which tax dollars will buy and which everyone—or nearly everyone—wants.

"To gain support behind a continuing program, it will be necessary for city officials and the city's civic-minded organizations to explain to the taxpayers why improvements are needed and why it is necessary to find the money to pay for them. This is anything but an easy task."

—Free tuition for West Virginia teachers attending summer school at state - supported universities and colleges.

— Exemption of physician - prescribed drugs from the consumers retail sales tax, described by Moore as a "first step" in fulfilling a campaign proposal to remove the 3-percent tax from groceries and drugs.

— Appropriation of $5 million for use, on a 50-50 basis with counties, in eliminating road hazards such as one - way bridges and improving airports. Highway financing has been exclusively a state responsibility since the 1930s.

—:—

— IMPROVEMENT of "the ability of cities and towns to support needed local improvements" by passage of legislation giving "every municipality the right to levy any and all taxes that are presently the exclusive authority of state government to levy and for which we have the constitutional right to give such taxing authority."

— Legislation to give municipalities rebates or exemption for taxes paid on gasoline for municipal vehicles.

— Legislation for issuance of the first $70 million in road bonds under the $350-million authorization appropriations approved in the November election and for issuance of another $20 million under the $200-million road bond authorization voted in 1964.

— Appropriation of $1,767,500, for improvements at 26 state parks and recreation areas.

— Appropriation of $1,117,000 for improvements at the Colin Anderson Center for retarded children, including building and equiping six cottage - type units, a community center and three staff houses; heating system renovation, fire alarm installation and a laundry addition.

Planning

$130,000 annually for the last three years of the budget period.

A total of $125,000, or 1.4 per cent, would come out of the sewer department's reserve and improvement fund and $702,500, or 7.5 per cent, would be raised from sale of general obligation or mortgage revenue bonds. Mortgage revenue bonds can be issued for money - producing projects such as off - street parking lots. The receipts are pledged to pay off the principal and interest in annual increments.

THE REMAINING $370,000, or 4 per cent, needed for the six-year program, would come from councilmanic bonds, the planning firm proposes.

So, although the plan proposes that only $330,000 of the money would come direct from city operating revenue, local funds would pay a $2,184,500 share of the bill. That represents the difference between the overall cost of $9,352,000 and federal and state aid of $7,167,500.

Local funds would pay the debt in various ways, either in special assessments levied against certain property-owners; in charges for utilization of parking lots or in higher tax rates to retire general obligation bond issues.

The municipality's bonding capacity could be increased by transferring the outstanding sewer revenue bonds to the sewer department, which would make the principal and interest payments from its revenue, the plan proposes. This would give the municipality an additional $120,000 in borrowing power, it adds.

Since the city is retiring its current debt at $60,000 to $70,000 a year, it should be in a position by 1970 to borrow money for its $70,000 share of improving Maine Blvd. and connecting streets, the plan says.

IF DEBT payments after 1969 remain at the $70,000-a-year average the city would have $836,000 in borrowing power by 1970 to borrow money for its $70,000 share of improving Maine Blvd. and connecting streets, the plan says.

But, it adds, the city should have enough borrowing capacity in the latter stages of the six-year program to finance the estimated $300,000 local share for extension of the Freeway to Mulberry St. and for parts of a beautification program for the central business district and an urban renewal program between the riverfront and 3rd St.

The discussion of capital improvements concludes with some comments on financing major projects:

"Can the city of East Liverpool develop a program for public works that is in scale with its ever - increasing needs for a wide variety of community facilities?

—:—

"THE ANSWER to this question will depend largely on whether or not the officials and residents of the city were willing to tap additional revenue sources and possibly to incur additional debt obligation.

"This is an inescapable conclusion. Communities that are trying to build for tomorrow cannot achieve this with a financial policy geared for yesterday.

The City Planning Commission should play an active role annually in the preparation of the city's capital budget. However, the Planning Commission's recommendations are only advisory in nature and are not binding upon City Council. Each year the Planning Commission should review the budget carefully to keep it in harmony with the changing picture of municipal needs and finances.

"However, it should be stressed that the six - year capital budget obviously can become a meaningful tool only if annual appropriations are made that conform more or less to the six - year program.

"THE PROBLEM of gaining citizen support for a program of public works that must of necessity cost money involves stirring the imagination of the citizens so that they begin to look to the future and to new parks, cultural facilities and other community assets which tax dollars will buy and which everyone—or nearly everyone—wants.

"To gain support behind a continuing program, it will be necessary for city officials and the city's civic-minded organizations to explain to the taxpayers why improvements are needed and why it is necessary to find the money to pay for them. This is anything but an easy task."

Moore Has Bill To Hike Governor's, Others Pay

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — Gov. Arch A. Moore Jr. had on his desk today a bill that would raise the salary of his successor $10,000 and immediately boost the pay of state Supreme Court justices and the state school superintendent.

Another measure, approved by the House and returned to the Senate, would increase the salaries of 29 appointed state officials.

Moore, who advocated the increases in a speech before the legislature Thursday, was expected to give quick approval to the first measure.

—:—

IN ADDITION to boosting the governor's salary to $35,000, it would increase the pay of other members of the Board of Public Works when the next administration takes office in 1973.

A constitutional provision prohibits increases in elected officials' salaries during their term of office. It does not apply to the high court's justices or to the appointed school superintendent.

The second salary bill was amended in the House to remove any legal barrier to making the increased salaries of 29 appointed officials effective immediately. The Senate is expected to concur and send that bill to Moore.

The Board of Public Works—Supreme Court salary bill was passed by the House without a roll call, while the other bill was approved 82-16.

An amendment by Del. Kenneth Auvil, D-Barbour, to raise the school superintendent to $30,000, instead of $22,500, was defeated after the longest debate during the young session. The current pay for that post is $18,000.

Another proposed amendment, by the House Finance Committee, also was rejected. It would have raised the Welfare Commissioner to $20,000 instead of the $18,500 in the bill. He now is paid $15,000.

—:—

THE BILL for appointed officials includes these other new salaries, with present salaries in parentheses:

—Road commissioner, $30,000 ($22,000); mental health director, $22,500 ($20,000); commerce commissioner, $18,500 ($14,000); tax commissioner, $2,000 ($16,000); natural resources director, $18,500 ($15,000).

—Alcohol beverage control commissioner, $16,000 ($14,000); mines director, $17,000 ($14,000); public institutions commissioner, $16,000 ($13,000); employment security commissioner, $18,500 ($14,000); labor commissioner, $17,000 ($12,000).

—Civil service commission director of personnel, $17,000 ($12,000); state police superintendent, $16,000 ($13,000); insurance commissioner, $15,000 ($12,000); motor vehicles commissioner, $15,000 ($12,000); banking commissioner, $15,000 ($12,000).

—Board of probation and parole, three members, $12,000 ($9,000); beer commissioner, $12,000 ($10,000); director of archives and history, $12,000 ($9,000); adjutant general, $12,000 ($8,000); director of civil and defense mobilization, $12,000 ($10,000).

—Director of veterans affairs, $12,000 ($10,000); employment security board of review, three members, $12,000 ($8,200); workmen's compensation commissioner, $16,000 ($14,000).

Slick Streets Cause Crash

A freezing rain that coated streets with ice was blamed for a skidding mishap early today that damaged two cars, police reported.

A 1965 sedan driven by Clarence A. Bryan, 50, of 342 W. 5th St. struck a parked 1968 sedan owned by Willis Smith of 329 Broadway at 1:23 this morning on Monroe St. 20 feet south of W. 6th St., police said.

Bryan told officers his auto skidded out of control as he turned left from W. 6th St. onto the brick pavement of Monroe St. Bryan's car skidded and hit the curb on the right hand side of the street, then continued south along the curb 20 feet and hit the left rear fender of Smith's auto. There also was damage to the right front fender, hood, bumper and grill of Bryan's auto.

An East End minister was cited on a charge of failure to stop in the assured clear distance after a collision that damaged two autos Thursday at 2:29 p. m. on Pennsylvania Ave. at Dewey Ave., police said.

The Rev. Robert L. Lattimore, 72, of 511 1st Ave. was cited in the mishap that damaged his 1961 sedan and a 1964 sedan operated by Ruth E. Podany, 36, of Hookstown.

The woman's auto was halted for a traffic signal when it was hit from the rear by Rev. Lattimore's auto, which left 30 feet of skid marks, officers reported.

ANN LANDERS

What Good 'Dead Right?'

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: Yesterday the couple next door had a terrific argument. We could her them screaming at each other, although our houses are two lots apart. My husband and I went to the front door to investigate.

Quick as a flash, their 3-year-old boy came dashing out the front door and ran into he street, directly in path of an oncoming car. Fortunately, the driver was alert and stopped in time.

The child's father didn't say one word to him. Instead he yelled some obscenities at the driver. (He should have blessed him!) The driver just shook his head as the father shouted, "You rotten egg, a child always has the right of way!"

Last year a trailer hit my car. I was driving slowly and carefully. According to the police, I had the right of way. But our little girl is dead, and she was all we had. That neighbor's boy could have been dead, too, yet he babbles about "right-of-way."

Every day pre-schoolers who should not be out alone are killed by cars. They don't know anything about "right of way." Where are parents' values? What could be more important than the life of a child? Please print this for parents whose children are still alive. — GRIEVING MOTHER.

-:-

Dear Mother: I appreciate your letter and know it will cause thousands of parents to pause for a moment and think in terms of the safety of their own pre-schoolers. You'll never know the good you have done by writing. Thank you.

She Belongs To Her

Dear Ann: I was brought up by old-fashioned parents and I guess you'd be justified in calling me square.

I'm a college sophomore and the only girl on the floor of this dorm who is a virgin. I grew up believing I should save myself for the man I marry, but these past few weeks have caused me to reconsider.

The big question, now that I have fallen in love, is this: Is it unrealistic to expect a young man to suffer the anxieties of frustration because his fiancee happens to believe as I do? Furthermore, will my rigidity cost me a wonderful husband?

Jack says the divorce rate scares him to death. He says he loves me but he's afraid we might not be sexually compatible. He feels we should find out before we marry. He also has suggested that I might be frigid. Last night he added another barb when he said, "A girl who teases is sadistic and immature."

You seem to have an answer for everything. Please tell me how to say no to a sex salesman with whom I happen to be in love. — NEED YOU.

Dear Need: Here's your answer: "My body belongs to me and I don't owe you experimental privileges or an undress rehearsal."

What happens to your body is your responsibility and it is also your problem if something unplanned should occur. Jack's theory that it's smart to try things out to see if they work before you "buy" is rubbish. A saleman once sold me a vacuum cleaner that worked beautifully during the 30-day trial. For some mysterious reason it fell apart two days after I bought it.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

COLOR TV RECEIVERS

Q. How can a person detect whether his color TV set is giving off harmful X-rays?
A. It is difficult to determine the level of x-ray production from a color set without sensitive and expensive instruments. Testing should be done by an authorized serviceman, or by a testing laboratory recommended by the health department. It should be noted that a well constructed color TV receiver, operated under specified conditions and properly maintained, need not be considered a health hazard.

What Good 'Dead Right?'

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: Yesterday the couple next door had a terrific argument. We could her them screaming at each other, although our houses are two lots apart. My husband and I went to the front door to investigate.

Quick as a flash, their 3-year-old boy came dashing out the front door and ran into he street, directly in path of an oncoming car. Fortunately, the driver was alert and stopped in time.

The child's father didn't say one word to him. Instead he yelled some obscenities at the driver. (He should have blessed him!) The driver just shook his head as the father shouted, "You rotten egg, a child always has the right of way!"

Last year a trailer hit my car. I was driving slowly and carefully. According to the police, I had the right of way. But our little girl is dead, and she was all we had. That neighbor's boy could have been dead, too, yet he babbles about "right-of-way."

Every day pre-schoolers who should not be out alone are killed by cars. They don't know anything about "right of way." Where are parents' values? What could be more important than the life of a child? Please print this for parents whose children are still alive. — GRIEVING MOTHER.

-:-

Dear Mother: I appreciate your letter and know it will cause thousands of parents to pause for a moment and think in terms of the safety of their own pre-schoolers. You'll never know the good you have done by writing. Thank you.

She Belongs To Her

Dear Ann: I was brought up by old-fashioned parents and I guess you'd be justified in calling me square.

I'm a college sophomore and the only girl on the floor of this dorm who is a virgin. I grew up believing I should save myself for the man I marry, but these past few weeks have caused me to reconsider.

The big question, now that I have fallen in love, is this: Is it unrealistic to expect a young man to suffer the anxieties of frustration because his fiancee happens to believe as I do? Furthermore, will my rigidity cost me a wonderful husband?

Jack says the divorce rate scares him to death. He says he loves me but he's afraid we might not be sexually compatible. He feels we should find out before we marry. He also has suggested that I might be frigid. Last night he added another barb when he said, "A girl who teases is sadistic and immature."

You seem to have an answer for everything. Please tell me how to say no to a sex salesman with whom I happen to be in love. — NEED YOU.

Dear Need: Here's your answer: "My body belongs to me and I don't owe you experimental privileges or an undress rehearsal."

What happens to your body is your responsibility and it is also your problem if something unplanned should occur. Jack's theory that it's smart to try things out to see if they work before you "buy" is rubbish. A saleman once sold me a vacuum cleaner that worked beautifully during the 30-day trial. For some mysterious reason it fell apart two days after I bought it.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

A. Common baldness is considered an hereditary condition caused by a sex-linked gene which is activated only in the presence of male hormone in quantities normally found in men, or in women with certain virilizing disorders.

COLOR TV RECEIVERS

Q. How can a person detect whether his color TV set is giving off harmful X-rays?
A. It is difficult to determine the level of x-ray production from a color set without sensitive and expensive instruments. Testing should be done by an authorized serviceman, or by a testing laboratory recommended by the health department. It should be noted that a well constructed color TV receiver, operated under specified conditions and properly maintained, need not be considered a health hazard.

Opposition To Death Penalty

Sirhan Trial May Result In U.S. Landmark Case

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Continued legal arguments over a prospective juror opposed to the death penalty raises the possibility that the Sirhan Bishara Sirhan trial may become a landmark case in U.S. law.

Since Sirhan is charged with slaying Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, the trial commands worldwide attention.

But the calling of Alvina Alvidrez as a prospective juror set the stage for a legal decision that could become a keystone ruling in future U.S. murder trials.

The battle was joined Thursday—the seventh day of Sirhan's trial—when Deputy Dist. Atty. David N. Fitts renewed his challenge to her seating. Mrs. Alvidrez told the court Wednesday that "under no circumstances whatsoever" could she vote for a death penalty.

But, the bespectacled woman in her 30s added, she felt qualified to judge the question of the 24-year-old Jordanian's guilt or innocence.

Judge Herbert V. Walker indicated he would rule today on her seating. Mrs. Alvidrez is among five men and six women tentatively seated.

Both the defense and prosecution say it could be a landmark decision which ultimately might spare Sirhan, if convicted, from the gas chamber.

Should the disputed juror remain on the panel and Sirhan be convicted of first degree murder, Deputy Dist. Atty. John E. Howard said, the judge would risk a mistrial or the problem of double jeopardy—trying a defendant twice on the same charge.

The double jeopardy would come, said Howard, if the jury that convicted Sirhan had to be replaced by a jury to deliberate punishment.

Three prospective jurors, two men and the wife of an undertaker, were seated Thursday.

CAB Tentatively Approves 3.8% Hike In Plane Fares

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Civil Aeronautics Board has tentatively agreed to a 3.8 per cent increase in domestic airline passenger fares.

The CAB said final approval of the increases, which probably would go into effect March 1, will be made after a "careful analysis of tariffs" to be filed by the airlines.

Six major airlines had applied for fare increases of five to seven per cent. A CAB spokesman said Thursday increases that large are "not warranted at this time."

The six were American, Braniff, Eastern, Northeast, Trans World and United.

The increase tentatively approved would have this effect on ticket-buyers:

—Each first-class fare for a trip of "any distance" would go up $3 one way.

—Certain first-class fares for East-West trips of 800 miles or more in specific markets where fares heretofore have been lower than industry norms would be increased by $1 to $7, depending on the distance.

—Coach fares for flights up to 500 miles would be increased by $2 one way. For flights of 500 to 1,800 miles they would be increased by $1 one way. They would not be increased for flights above 1,800 miles.

—The lines would be permitted to establish a seven-day minimum stay requirement and a seven-day minimum ticket pickup requirement for "Discover America" excursion fares.

The airlines, which had combined gross ticket sales of $5.1 billion in 1968, asked the higher fares "to cover increases in operating costs and profit declines."

Talks Continue In Cincinnati's Employe Strike

Don't Count Me Out, HHH Says In Talk

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Sounding more like a candidate than a college professor, Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey made his last speech before leaving office and said, "Don't count me out. . .I'm not done yet."

The statement Thursday, to 350 members of the Greater Miami Jewish Federation attending an Israel fund raising rally, drew roaring applause.

"I'm a young 57," Humphrey said, "and I plan to spend the next four years taking to the countryside and modernizing the Democratic party."

When asked about possible future candidates in the party, Humphrey mentioned Sens. Edward M. Kennedy of Masachusetts and Edmund S. Muskie of Maine, then added: "Don't rule me out."

He said that even more than losing the presidential election to Richard M. Nixon, he regretted having to leave public office.

"I've been in elected office for 23 consecutive years," he said. "When I leave it won't be the easiest thing in my life."

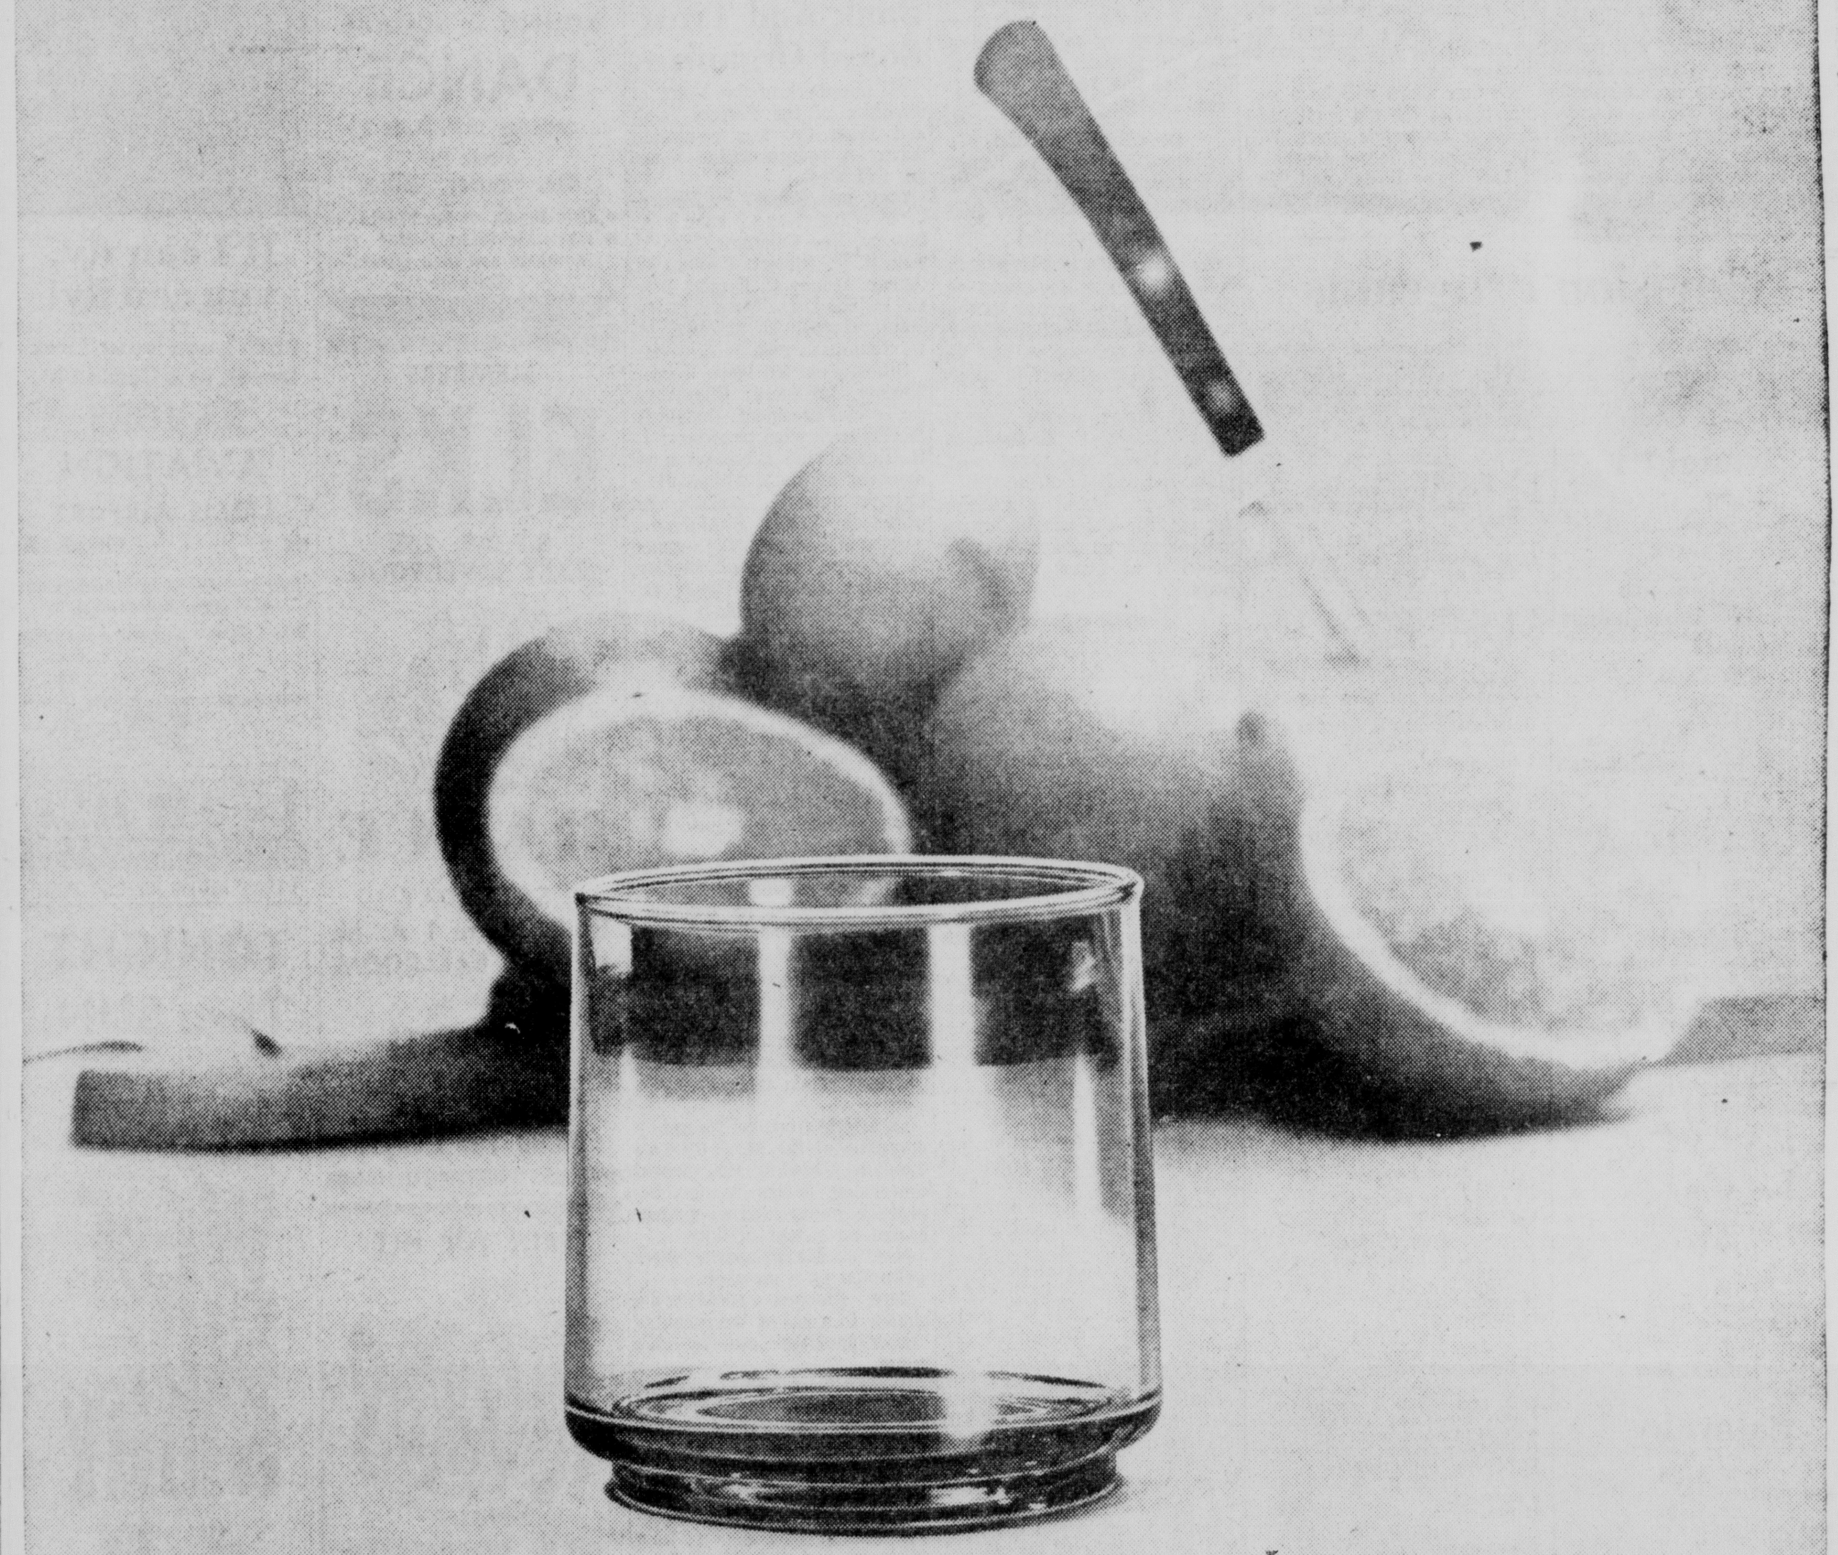

"The years since I was elected mayor of Minneapolis have been a special joy," he said, "and I can't help but be sad about going out to pasture—even temporarily."

Where Are The Shows Of Yesteryear?

We were talking about Whirlybirds.

And Brod Crawford lurching through "Highway Patrol," making up the dialog as he went. Lloyd Bridges perpetually waterlogged from Sea Hunt. Adolphe Menjou's Favorite Story. Somerset Maugham's short stories translated to TV film with Hank Fonda as the host guzzling beer for the commercials.

Cecil Smith

The whole raft of syndicated shows of yesteryear that studios like Ziv and Desilu and others turned out like sausages.

THE MARKET dried up with rising costs, demands for quality and the availability of old filmed series from the networks for reruns on independent stations and a Hollywood staple went down the drain.

There are several developments at the moment that prompted the conversation. The most significant is the proposed merger of Metromedia communications complex with the vast $5 billion financial conglomerate, Transamerica Corp.

In application for Federal Communications Commission approval of the merger, the companies said that the added financial resources will enable the merged company to plunge heavily into program production to supply a market in dire need of a fresh, new product.

THE PROMISE is to produce a dozen new TV series for syndication at a cost of around $250,000 a week. Additionally, a worldwide news-gathering agency would be established to provide local stations with news footage.

Last year Metromedia acquired David Wolper's documentary production company and certainly the merger would supply backing for expansion of its production.

Metromedia's Reavis Winkler said this is not designed to form another commercial network in competition with the big three but rather to provide a "service network" that would be able to supply entertainment programs, news documentaries to the growing number of independent stations and possibly for specific sports or news events to interlock 100 or more independents across the nation.

THE FCC unquestionably will take a long and careful look at the merger proposal before making any decision. The agency has shown grave concern that the nation's communications facilities would be concentrated into a few, very powerful organizations, one of the reasons it turned down the proposal last year to merge the American Broadcasting Companies with the huge International Telephone & Telegraph conglomerate.

Winkler said the need for fresh programs for independent sttions is becoming desperate.

"The off-network reruns aren't making it," he said. "Maybe they reach a saturation point in the original network showings and the summer reruns."

METROMEDIA'S studios at KTTV in Hollywood are undergoing major expansion of production facilities to meet its current demand. It now produces the reactivated "Truth or Consequences," which is seen on 91 stations across the country, and several other strip programs, including Donald O'Connor's new talk show and Jack LaLanne's exercises.

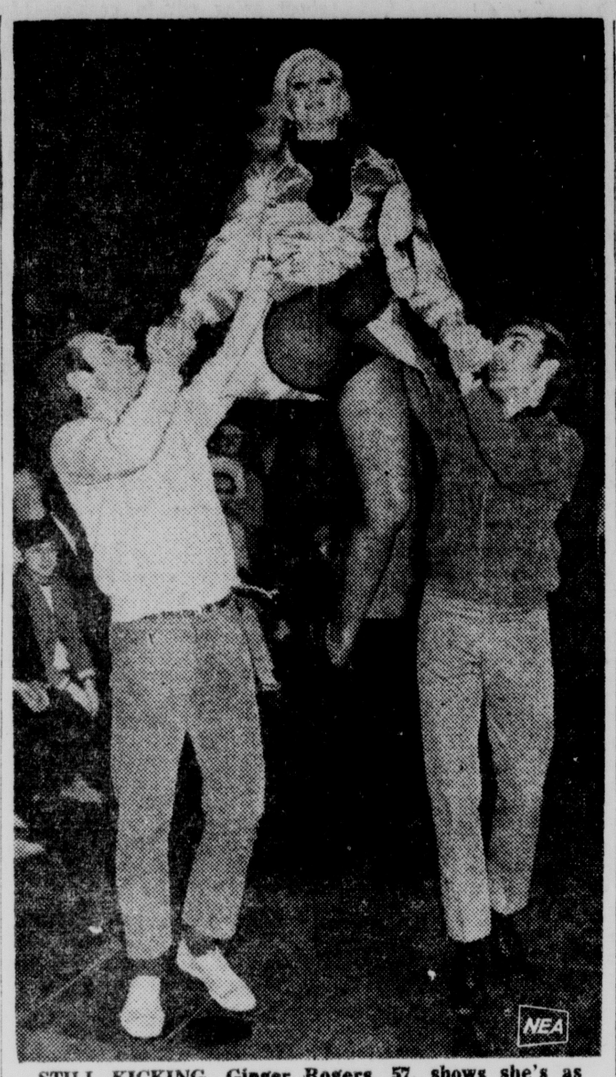

It has plans to revive the old tear jerkers, "Queen for a Day," and to inaugerate several other projects, including a Liar's Club with Rod Serling.

"But about the only kinds of shows we can afford to do are talk programs and game shows — things that can be done cheaply," said Winkler.

The solidest bulwarks of the present syndication market are travel, game and talk programs. The most popular of the talk shows is that of Merv Griffin, produced by the excellent Westinghouse chain of stations, Group W, but Griffin is leaving this spring to join CBS and do a nightly network show opposite Johnny Carson and Joey Bishop next fall.

MEANWHILE, the TV scope widens. The opening of KKOG in Ventura, Calif., last month marked the 166th UHF station to go on the air. With the spread of cable systems, the difference between UHF and VHF is becoming academic and many of these stations are scratching for new programs to fill their air.

Whether there will be a resurrection of the old syndicated shows is anybody's guess. Will "Dr. Hudson's Secret Journal," "I Led Three Lives" and "Dr. Christian" emerge again? Tune in Monday.

STILL KICKING, Ginger Rogers, 57, shows she's as nimble as ever rehearsing for the London production of "Mame." Though she has won acclaim for dramatic performances, Miss Rogers is best remembered as the dancing costar of Fred Astaire during the late 1930s.

Warehouse Loss Placed At $135

Food items valued at $135 were stolen from the warehouse of the B. & T. Distributing Co. at 1517 Smithfield St., police were told Thursday.

The firm is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Doland of 601 Orchard Grove Ave. They said the loss included four cases of hot sausage worth a total of $48; three gallons of hot sausage worth $12; a case of wieners worth $34, a case of peanuts valued at $12, cheese worth $22, a box of Brazil nuts worth $7 and anti-acid tablets on which no value was placed.

Mrs. Doland told officers the building was entered through a rear window between 8 p. m. Wednesday and 10 a. m. Thursday. The intruders removed the merchandise from the upstairs section of the building and carried it to a waiting vehicle, going through garage doors in the basement. Several jars of hot sausage were dropped on the basement floor.

The Magna Carta was not signed at all at Runnymede. It was "sealed."

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Old 'Taters' Are All Eyes

DEAR HELOISE: Knowing that you shop only once a month, you must have an answer to the "eyes" in that big bag of potatoes. What in the world can be done when you find a whole big bag going "that-a-way"?

FREEZER, TOO.

-:-

First, as soon as I see any eyes, or growth forming on the potatoes, I pick 'em off. This helps and also kept the potatoes from going pithy for a while.

Heloise

I immediately bake 'em thoroughly in my oven without foil. I let them cool to the touch.

Cut each one in half, scoop out the centers with a spoon, place in mixing bowl and mash while DRY. I use my beater for this but a potato masher will do.

I then add a LITTLE water (NOT milk because we are going to freeze 'em) along with a drop or two of yellow food coloring and some oleo. I add salt and ground black pepper, and now is where we start. . .I grate some cheese on the largest part of my grater (I use lots of cheese) and some raw onion.

I dump this in the mashed potatoes and stir well with a fork. Do not heat or use mixer or masher for this.

I fill each baked potato half shell with this goop and then freeze them.

I usually put the potatoes in a throw-away pan, cover with plastic (so I can see), and secure with a few rubber bands.

Next time I want potatoes for supper, it's a lulu just to let them thaw and rebake until thoroughly warm.

I also found that after rebaking the potatoes, and just before removing them from the oven, that if I sprinkle some Parmesan cheese (or any kind of cheese) over the top and let it melt slightly to a brown tinge, that we are back up on cloud nine again.

I call these Peking Potatoes as, when I lived in China, I learned this is the way the Chinese utilize pithy potatoes.

And if you are a garlic lover, either garlic juice or garlic salt may be added to the potato mixture before filling the shell, or it can be sprinkled on top before reheating the potatoes.

For variety, sometimes I add chopped chives, the sliced tops of little green onions or chopped pimentos. Wonderful for color and taste.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: For mothers who have a small child who refuses to drink his fruit juice each day, but loves soft drinks — try pouring his juice in a pop bottle when he isn't around!

The next time you want him to drink his juice — just give him a bottle of pop (that is, the empty one you filled with fruit juice!). Bet you he'll drink it!

MRS. J. L. TANGEMAN.

DEAR HELOISE: If you save newspaper clippings which will be stored in the attic or some other place and don't want them to fade and become yellow, I just might be able to help. . .

If you have an old, clean, white wax candle, just rub the wax over the clipping! This will keep it from fading.

CLIPPING COLLECTOR.

LETTER OF TRUTH

DEAR HELOISE: Threading the sewing machine needle was a real chore for my nearsighted eyes until I realized that the trouble was caused by the glare of the foot-and-feed plate.

Now I lay a contrasting piece of material or paper over them and can see the needle eye plainly.

Many times I can thread it on the first try instead of the umpteenth!

STELLA L. BURKE.

DEAR HELOISE: I have an idea for getting that last bit of shortening out of the can:

I use my rubber batter scraper, and how wonderful it is. No wasted shortening.

These little batter scrapers can be used for many things . . . to remove all the mashed potatoes from the pan the last bit of cake batter, bread dough, or anything that a spoon would leave.

They cost very little and are worth their weight in gold.

MARGARET DEVILLE.

Fire Destroys Marietta Site

MARIETTA, Ohio (AP) — A three - story downtown building housing a tire recapping plant and a motorcycle store was destroyed by fire late Thursday night.

Two - thirds of the old brick building was occupied by Cole's tire recapping plant, and an estimated 3,500 tires were destroyed. Most of the motorcycles in the ground floor store were taken from the building before the fire reached that section of the building.

There was no damage estimate Thursday night. The cause of the blaze was unknown, but the first firemen who entered the building said the fire apparently started near an elevator shaft.

OSU Students Hire Lobbyist

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State University students have hired a legislative lobbyist, student body president Jay Shaffer said at a student assembly Thursday night.

He is Vaughn Stocksdale, who has served two House terms from the district comprising Darke, Mercer and Preble counties.

Stockdale, who was graduated from Manchester College in Indiana, now is in law school at OSU.

Shaffer said the lobbyist would work for, among other things, lowering of the voting age from 21 to 19, giving higher education more money from the state and putting a voting student on boards of trustees of state colleges.

Shaffer also disclosed that beatnik poet Alan Ginsberg is scheduled to visit the campus next spring. Ginsberg's appearances at some colleges elsewhere in the nation have stirred controversy.

First, as soon as I see any eyes, or growth forming on the potatoes, I pick 'em off. This helps and also kept the potatoes from going pithy for a while.

Heloise

I immediately bake 'em thoroughly in my oven without foil. I let them cool to the touch.

Cut each one in half, scoop out the centers with a spoon, place in mixing bowl and mash while DRY. I use my beater for this but a potato masher will do.

I then add a LITTLE water (NOT milk because we are going to freeze 'em) along with a drop or two of yellow food coloring and some oleo. I add salt and ground black pepper, and now is where we start. . .I grate some cheese on the largest part of my grater (I use lots of cheese) and some raw onion.

I dump this in the mashed potatoes and stir well with a fork. Do not heat or use mixer or masher for this.

I fill each baked potato half shell with this goop and then freeze them.

I usually put the potatoes in a throw-away pan, cover with plastic (so I can see), and secure with a few rubber bands.

Next time I want potatoes for supper, it's a lulu just to let them thaw and rebake until thoroughly warm.

I also found that after rebaking the potatoes, and just before removing them from the oven, that if I sprinkle some Parmesan cheese (or any kind of cheese) over the top and let it melt slightly to a brown tinge, that we are back up on cloud nine again.

I call these Peking Potatoes as, when I lived in China, I learned this is the way the Chinese utilize pithy potatoes.

And if you are a garlic lover, either garlic juice or garlic salt may be added to the potato mixture before filling the shell, or it can be sprinkled on top before reheating the potatoes.

For variety, sometimes I add chopped chives, the sliced tops of little green onions or chopped pimentos. Wonderful for color and taste.

LETTER OF TRUTH

DEAR HELOISE: Threading the sewing machine needle was a real chore for my nearsighted eyes until I realized that the trouble was caused by the glare of the foot-and-feed plate.

Now I lay a contrasting piece of material or paper over them and can see the needle eye plainly.

Many times I can thread it on the first try instead of the umpteenth!

Shaffer also disclosed that beatnik poet Alan Ginsberg is scheduled to visit the campus next spring. Ginsberg's appearances at some colleges elsewhere in the nation have stirred controversy.

Judge Given Lie Test In Wife Slaying

EUCLID, Ohio (AP)—Euclid Municipal Judge Robert L. Steele was given a lie detector test Thursday night as the intensive investigation into his wife's murder went into its second week.

Steele had volunteered to take the test last week. It was administered Thursday night at Cleveland police headquarters by detectives.

Detective Norman Luekey, one of three men who administered the test, said Steele was asked if he had killed his 37-year-old wife Marlene and he replied that he had not.

Steele told Euclid police last Thursday that he found his wife's body in a downstairs bedroom about 2 a. m. after hearing shuffling and "popping" sounds in the house. He said he also heard sounds like the steps of a runner and heard a door slam.

Steele's wife, mother of two boys aged 8 and 4, had been shot twice in the head with a .38 caliber pistol fired at close range. Euclid police say intensive search efforts in and around the Steele house failed to turn up any gun.

Euclid Safety Director Ralph O. Dunker said Thursday that results of a paraffin test made on the judge's hands had been received, but he declined to comment on the findings. The test would indicate whether or not Steele had fired a gun the night of his wife's death.

Couple To Start With 23 Children

BOSTON (AP) — Talk about a ready-made family! Fred and Fran are starting out with 23 "kids."

Frederick J. O'Donnell, a widower, and Frances Brady, a widow, are assured of a big turnout for their marriage Feb. 2 at Blessed Sacrament Church in the Jamaica Plain section.

O'Donnell, an assistant city clerk, recently solved the housing shortage. He bought a three-family home and is converting it into a 16-room, one family residence.

O'Donnell, thin and bespectacled, has 13 children—seven sons and six daughters, ranging in age from 8 through 25. Mrs. Brady, plump and pretty, has 10 children, from 9 to 26.

"I know it sounds startling to most people, but when you have such a large family a few more doesn't present such a problem," O'Donnell said.

He added that Fran has three children married "and my three oldest girls will be sharing an apartment, so we will number only 19."

The children of each family joined in helping send wedding invitations. And, naturally, all are looking forward to the big day.

"The experience of raising a large family is unique," O'Donnell said. "It's really quite different from bringing up two or three.

"If two people in our situation fall in love, this experience creates a very special sort of bond."

How did the happy couple meet?

When Mrs. Brady took a job in the city clerk's department. And, naturally, they bumped into each other in the office where births and marriages are recorded.

"I was chatting with Fran and another widow on the staff," O'Donnell recalled Thursday. "When I went to get some refreshments, the other girl turned to Fran and said jokingly, 'He's a widower, but I hate to tell you. He has 13 children."

Bill Will Urge Training Ohio Probation Officers

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A bill requiring the Ohio Youth Commission to train county probation officers is to be introduced into the 108th General Assembly next week.

Rep. David D. Albritton R-Montgomery said his proposal will also create a delinquency prevention bureau on the state level.

Albritton said he considered the bill a "must" piece of legislation. A similar proposal failed to make it through the 107th legislature.

Albritton's bill will be one of several dumped into the legislative hopper during the week but they will get little attention except for referral to committee.

At least 67 legislators—60 of them from the House—will be at Burr Oak State Park near Athens for a governmental "workshop." Skeleton sessions, requiring only two legislators and a clerk, will be held.

The legislature received Thursday proposed measures that would appoint an ombudsman, grant homestead exemptions to homeowners 65 or over, abolish capital punishment and a bonus to veterans of the Vietnam war.

The ombudsman, appointed by the governor, would have sweeping investigative powers and would immune from any civil or criminal liability.

The proposal, as submitted by Sen. John H. Weeks R-Cuyahoga would give the ombudsman the same salary as the chief justice of the Ohio Supreme Court, $32,500.

Two homestead exemption proposals were offered in the House.

Rep. Alan E. Noris R-Franklin sponsored a $5,000 exemption resolution while a similar one was filed by Rep. A. G. Lancione, Democrat from Bellaire. It would leave the exemption amount up to the legislature.

The capital punishment issue was brought before the legislature again by Rep. Phale D. Hale D-Franklin. He wants Ohio to abolish the death penalty.

The Vietnam bonus proposal was offered in both the House and Senate. Following the lines of the old Korean bonus, it would pay $15 for each month overseas. Maximum payment would be $400.

Present congressional districts would be used to realign the Ohio Board of Education membership under another Senate proposal.

A bill to permit police and firemen to retire after 20 years was introduced in the House. They must now serve 25 years unless disabled.

Ex-East Liverpool Resident Heads Congressional Wives

A former East Liverpool resident has been accorded one of the most coveted honors which can be conferred upon a congressional wife — the presidency of the Congressional Club.

Named to the post is Mrs. Winston L. Prouty, wife of Vermont's junior senator.

Mrs. Prouty, a native of East Liverpool, is the former Jennette Herbert Hall.

Mr. Hall and the senator's first wife are both deceased.

—:—

WITH THE presidency goes a lot of work. Mrs. Prouty has been going over her new-found duties and concludes, "It's like running a sizable business, except, of course, there is no salary."

The club, in its 61st year, forms its active membership around wives of senators and congressmen. Wives of Supreme Court justices and members of the cabinet also can be active members. The First Lady and the wife of the vice president are honorary members.

The club is nonpartisan in its membership and politics play no part in its activities. Over the years it has adhered to its congressional wives close personal and social relationships.

Mrs. Prouty cautions, "You must not get the impression that the Congressional Club is just for social events. There is a great deal more to our activities, including Red Cross work, art tours and classes in a variety of fields." Each Friday a nationally-known speaker briefs the members on major issues.

—:—

MRS. PROUTY, the club's 33rd president, feels the club can do even more. At present she is inquiring among members as to what additional projects the club can undertake.

She took the job on her husband's urging. The senator said, "I am proud of the respect and joys among congressional wives." The senator is so proud that he does not think he will mind his new duties — standing in a great deal more receiving lines then he would normally.

"This is not my cup of tea," he admits, but with a wry smile he added, "Under the circumstances, I shall be happy to do so."

Southern Local Band Group Sets Varied Projects

SALINEVILLE — New kettle drums, a new portfolio cupboard and repairs to present cupboards or drum storage were tentatively approved by the Southern Local Band Boosters during their meeting this week at the high school.

Director Oscar Gartrell was asked to obtain prices on the drums and report at the next meeting. The storage cabinets will be checked with a local carpenter and completed to Gartrell's specifications.

The group voted to purchase dated guards for the band pins presented the seniors.

A discussion was held on the musical production which will be presented early in April. Gartrell announced that the all-county band event will be in Salem March 14.

Repairing of instruments and insurance also were discussed.

The next meeting will be at the school Feb. 11.

Prosecutor Rules Out Amnesty For Former Students

COLUMBUS (AP) — Franklin County Prosecutor C. Howard Johnson said Thursday he would not consider an amnesty for 34 former Ohio State University students indicted in the takeover of the administration building last year.

The proposal was made by state Rep. Phale Hale of Columbus, a minister and civil rights leader who contended there were racial overtones in the charges against the Negroes.

One grand jury indicted them on a trespassing charge which later was dropped.

A separate grand jury indicted them on a kidnaping charge, alleging the dissidents forcibly detained OSU officials and staff members inside the building last April 26.

"There were also white students in the building, but they were not indicted," Hale said, adding that OSU officials were free to come and go.

Two of the indicted Negroes, William Kilgore and Cynthia Zachary, have been chosen by the university to help recruit minority citizens as professors, especially Negroes.

That step, Hale said, is proof the school does not want to prosecute. But Johnson said no OSU official has asked him to grant an amnesty.

Girl In Bus Accident Remains In Hospital

Jeannine Bengar, 17 of Steubenville RD 1, a Jefferson Union High School student, injured when an Edison Local school bus was involved in an accident Tuesday, remains in "satisfactory" condition at St. John's Hospital, Steubenville.

The bus, carrying 46 students, and a car collided on Township Rd. 346 in the Richmond area.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Wintersville said the bus was driven by Gloria Pinkerton, 32, of Irondale RD 1 and the car was operated by Garry Shultz of Toronto RD 1. Both drivers told officers the vehicles met on a slight curve and slid into each other.

The proposal, as submitted by Sen. John H. Weeks R-Cuyahoga would give the ombudsman the same salary as the chief justice of the Ohio Supreme Court, $32,500.

Two homestead exemption proposals were offered in the House.

Rep. Alan E. Noris R-Franklin sponsored a $5,000 exemption resolution while a similar one was filed by Rep. A. G. Lancione, Democrat from Bellaire. It would leave the exemption amount up to the legislature.

The capital punishment issue was brought before the legislature again by Rep. Phale D. Hale D-Franklin. He wants Ohio to abolish the death penalty.

The Vietnam bonus proposal was offered in both the House and Senate. Following the lines of the old Korean bonus, it would pay $15 for each month overseas. Maximum payment would be $400.

Present congressional districts would be used to realign the Ohio Board of Education membership under another Senate proposal.

A bill to permit police and firemen to retire after 20 years was introduced in the House. They must now serve 25 years unless disabled.

Ex-East Liverpool Resident Heads Congressional Wives

A former East Liverpool resident has been accorded one of the most coveted honors which can be conferred upon a congressional wife — the presidency of the Congressional Club.

Named to the post is Mrs. Winston L. Prouty, wife of Vermont's junior senator.

Mrs. Prouty, a native of East Liverpool, is the former Jennette Herbert Hall.

Mr. Hall and the senator's first wife are both deceased.

—:—

WITH THE presidency goes a lot of work. Mrs. Prouty has been going over her new-found duties and concludes, "It's like running a sizable business, except, of course, there is no salary."

The club, in its 61st year, forms its active membership around wives of senators and congressmen. Wives of Supreme Court justices and members of the cabinet also can be active members. The First Lady and the wife of the vice president are honorary members.

The club is nonpartisan in its membership and politics play no part in its activities. Over the years it has adhered to its congressional wives close personal and social relationships.

Mrs. Prouty cautions, "You must not get the impression that the Congressional Club is just for social events. There is a great deal more to our activities, including Red Cross work, art tours and classes in a variety of fields." Each Friday a nationally-known speaker briefs the members on major issues.

—:—

MRS. PROUTY, the club's 33rd president, feels the club can do even more. At present she is inquiring among members as to what additional projects the club can undertake.

She took the job on her husband's urging. The senator said, "I am proud of the respect and joys among congressional wives." The senator is so proud that he does not think he will mind his new duties — standing in a great deal more receiving lines then he would normally.

"This is not my cup of tea," he admits, but with a wry smile he added, "Under the circumstances, I shall be happy to do so."

Prosecutor Rules Out Amnesty For Former Students

COLUMBUS (AP) — Franklin County Prosecutor C. Howard Johnson said Thursday he would not consider an amnesty for 34 former Ohio State University students indicted in the takeover of the administration building last year.

The proposal was made by state Rep. Phale Hale of Columbus, a minister and civil rights leader who contended there were racial overtones in the charges against the Negroes.

One grand jury indicted them on a trespassing charge which later was dropped.

A separate grand jury indicted them on a kidnaping charge, alleging the dissidents forcibly detained OSU officials and staff members inside the building last April 26.

"There were also white students in the building, but they were not indicted," Hale said, adding that OSU officials were free to come and go.

Two of the indicted Negroes, William Kilgore and Cynthia Zachary, have been chosen by the university to help recruit minority citizens as professors, especially Negroes.

That step, Hale said, is proof the school does not want to prosecute. But Johnson said no OSU official has asked him to grant an amnesty.

The bus, carrying 46 students, and a car collided on Township Rd. 346 in the Richmond area.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Wintersville said the bus was driven by Gloria Pinkerton, 32, of Irondale RD 1 and the car was operated by Garry Shultz of Toronto RD 1. Both drivers told officers the vehicles met on a slight curve and slid into each other.

Prove He Was Shot Twice From Behind

Warren Findings On JFK Autopsy Right, Panel Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — A panel of medical experts which met in secret last year says the autopsy findings on President John F. Kennedy were correct as detailed in the Warren Commission Report and prove he was shot twice from behind.

The report was made public by the Justice Department Thursday night on the eve of court proceedings on a petition by New Orleans Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison to gain possession of autopsy photographs and x-rays in the hope of proving the President was hit by one bullet fired from in front him, and another fired at his back.

Garrison subpoenaed the material as evidence in the trial of Clay L. Shaw, retired 55-year-old New Orleans businessman charged with conspiring to murder Kennedy.

Garrison claims he can use the photographs and x-rays to prove at least one of the bullets which struck Kennedy in Dallas five years ago was fired from his front.

This would show that a conspiracy was involved, whereas the Warren Commission concluded Kennedy was shot by one man, Lee Harvey Oswald, acting alone.

The photographs and x-rays were placed in the care of the National Archives in 1966 by Kennedy's widow, Mrs. Aristotle Onassis, and his brother, the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

This was done by letter agreement that the material would not be made public for five years, and then only to government investigators, to prevent "undignified or sensational" use of them.

Garrison asked that the District of Columbia General Sessions Court order the national archivist, James B. Rhoads, to appear with the material at Shaw's trial Jan. 21. Rhoads was ordered to a show-cause hearing today to explain why he should not.

He filed an application in the court Thursday listing several reasons. For one thing, Rhoads said, violating restrictions under which the National Archives received the material "would completely destroy the public confidence in the federal government to honor its commitments to donors of papers, oral history transcripts and other historial material."

Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark, who released the review panel's findings said Mrs. Onassis and Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., the only surviving Kennedy brother, were consulted before the material was shown to the panel.

Burke Marshall, former assistant attorney general who represents the Kennedys in the matter, said Sen. Kennedy and Mrs. Onassis "both asked me to say that they will have no comment to make on the report or its release."

Clark did not say why the review was kept secret. The report of the panelists was signed last spring. It says they met to review the autopsy material last Feb. 26 and 27 in Washington.

Members of the panel were Dr. William H. Carnes, professor of pathology at the University of Utah; Dr. Russell S. Fisher, professor of forensic pathology at the University of Maryland; Dr. Russell H. Morgan, professor of radiolgy and radilogical science at John Hopkins University, and Dr. Alan R. Moritz, professor of pathology at Case Western Reserve University in Cleveland.

Their report said, "Examination of the clothing and of the photographs and x-rays taken at the autopsy reveal that President Kennedy was struck by two bullets fired from above and behind him, one of which traversed the base of the neck on the right side without striking bone and the other of which entered the skull from behind and exploded its right side.

"The photographs and x-rays discussed herein support the above-quoted portion of the originall autopsy and the above-quoted medical conclusions of the Warren Commission Report."

The original autopsy was performed by a three-man team of naval surgeons headed by Dr. James J. Humes, then commander of the Navy Medical Corps, the night Kennedy was killed.

One of its members, Dr. J. Thornton Boswell, wrote Clark a year ago that he and Humes felt that because of the controversy over the Warren Report "an impartial board of experts including pathologists and radiologists should examine the material available." Clark appointed the board a short time later.

James Alcock, Garrison's chief assistant, said Thursday night the panelists' report "doesn't satisfy our subpoena. It just seems we're getting the same old slight-of-hand."

The report said:

"One bullet struck the back of the decedent's head well above the occipital protuberance (base of the skull). Based upon the observation that he was leaning forward with his head turned obliquely to the left when this bullet struck, the photographs and x-rays indicate that it came from a site above and slightly to his right. This bullet fragmented after entering the cranium, one major piece of it passing forward and laterally to produce an explosive fracture of the right side of the skull as it emerged from the head.

"The other bullet," the report continued, "struck the decedent's back at the right side of the base of the neck between the shoulder and spine and emerged from the front of his neck near the midline."

The Warren Commission said this bullet then probably struck Texas Gov. John Connaly, who was riding in the front seat of the open-air limousine carrying Kennedy. Connally was seriously injured.

The report said that if this bullet had taken any path other than the one through the wound through Kennedy's neck it "would almost surely have been interecepted by bone, and x-ray film show no bony damage . ."

Deputies Meet In Pay Dispute After Sick Calls

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Off-duty Cuyahoga County sheriff's deputies were to meet early today to discuss a pay issue which prompted 12 officers to put themselves on sick rolls Thursday.

The 12 were among 25 deputies who reported for the second shift at Cuyahoga County jail Thursday. They signed out sick, complaining that they had not been paid for seven holidays and had not received an agreed upon $6,500 salary for officers with one year's service.

Sheriff Ralph Krieger said a study of payroll practices was underway, but he had set minimum starting salaries at $5,600, with raises to that amount where necessary for deputies with more than one year's service.

Court Supports $45,000 Verdict Against Crucible

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The State Supreme Court has sustained a $45,000 verdict against Crucible Steel Co. in a personal injury case that happened in Midland.

The court rulde Thursday that Crucible failed to prtoect Paul Jarowicz, 44, of Pittsburgh from an ordinary looking mire that carried dangerously high voltage.

Janowicz was injured in 1962 when the wire bceame frayed, touched a cable on a scaffold he was working from and snapped it in two, throwing him 30 feet to the ground.

Centers On New Plane Cost

Proxmire Labels Memo 'Shocking Retaliation'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., coaxed an Air Force official into insisting that no retaliation was planned against an efficiency expert who revealed a $2 billion Pentagon error in estimating the cost of a new plane, then dramatically read into the record a secret memo detailing three ways to fire the man.

The senator, chairman of the Joint Economy subcommittee and a persistent critic of Defense Department procurement practices, called the memo "the most shocking retaliation against a public servant I have seen in the 11 years I have been in the Senate."

Proxmire said it "directly contradicted" pledges by Air Force officials that no action would be taken against the efficiency expert, A. Ernest Fitzgerald, who disclosed the $2 billion over-run in earlier testimony before the subcommittee.

The incident occurred Thursday during a subcommittee hearing with Robert H. Charles, assistant secretary for installations and logistics, in the witness chair. Charles, unruffled, said the memo merely outlined "various things that could happen under certain conditions."

At issue is the Cost of the C-5A, a giant jet transport plane built for the Air Force by Lockheed Corp. Fitzgerald, deputy assistant secretary for financial management, testified before the Proxmire subcommittee last November that development of the plane had cost $2 billion more than the Pentagon had bargained for.

Nonetheless, the Pentagon demonstrated its satisfaction Thursday with the airplane, if not the bargain.

The Air Force announced, while Assistant Secretary Charles was on the stand, that it would buy 23 more planes from Lockheed at a cost of $541 million.

Proxmire opened the subject of Fitzgerald's status by reminding Charles that the efficiency expert had been stripped of Civil Service protection 12 days after his original testimony.

Charles replied that Fitzgerald wasn't entitled to Civil Service status in the first place, and had gotten it only because of a "computer error."

No further action is planned against Fitzgerald, asked Proxmire?

None, replied Charles.

Whereupon, Proxmire read him a memo entitled "Background Information Relating to Jan. 6, addressed to Secretary of the Air Force Harold Brown, and signed by Brown's administrative assistant, John Lang.

The memo said Fitzgerald could be removed from government service three ways:

—By bringing him up on charges in order "to promo4e efficiency of the service;" a step not otherwise explained.

—By making a "reduction in force" government terminology meaning to abolish the job. The memo noted that Fitzgerald hadn't come to the Pentagon from any other government position and, therefore, "could neither 'bump' nor displace anyone" else.

—By converting Fitzgerald's assignment to a Civil Service career classification, and thus requiring that it be filled by competitive examination. The third method didn't appeal to Lang, who wrote:

"This action is not recommended since it is rather underhanded and would probably not be approved by the Civil Service Commission."

Assistant Secretary Charles resisted all efforts by Proxmire to get him to say that the memo proved the Air Force planned to fire Fitzgerald. He conceded only that "the wording was unfortunate."

Nor would Charles agree to Fitzgerald's original contention that cost of the original 58 airplanes ordered from Lockheed exceeded estimates by $2 billion. The "over-run", he insisted, was only $882 million.

$4 Million Suit Filed In Crash Of Plane In '67

CINCINNATI (AP)—An abortive takeoff and a crash of a Cincinnati Airport in late 1967 took a new legal dimension Thursday in U. S. District Court as Trans-World Airlines filed a $4.84 million damage suit against Delta Airlines.

TWA contended a Delta DC9, mired in mud along the runway, erroneously reported its craft clear of the runway, causing a TWA Boeing 707 to abort and crash on Nov. 6, 1967.

Earlier, George W. Rosenthal filed suit for $525,000 in U. S. District Court gainst both airlines. Rosenthal said he was injured in the crash and his wife, Marion, died three days later from injuries.

The two were passengers of the TWA aircraft, and the only persons hospitalized.

Delta filed a cross-complaint in the federal court earlier this week, asking that TWA be required to share the cost of any judgement rendered against Delta.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Dr. Martin W. Essex, state school superintendent, says he agrees with the governor's task force report on education that Ohio needs added emphasis on vocational training.

Essex Agrees With Proposals Of Task Force

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Dr. Martin W. Essex, state school superintendent, says he agrees with the governor's task force report on education that Ohio needs added emphasis on vocational training.

Replying to the objections from college and university officials that the task force proposals would push technical training at the expense of general education, Essex told a news conference Thursday:

"Every youngster must have a general education, but certainly every youngster does not need a college preparatory course."

The Dapper Dan Club of the Upper Ohio Valley continues to add big names to the list of those scheduled to attend its sports awards dinner Sunday night at the Steubenville Arena.

Latest addition is Norm Cash of the World Champion Detroit Tigers. Cash contributed 25 homers, 63 RBIs and a .263 batting average to the Tigers' pennant drive. He hit .385 in the World Series to lead the Bengals. Cash won the AL batting title with a .361 mark in 1961.

Cash was a good enough football player at Sul Ross State College in his native Texas to be drafted by the Chicago Bears, but he chose baseball instead, signing with the White Sox. He played with the Indians before joining the Tigers in 1960.

EAST LIVERPOOL is ranked 11th in the state in the UPI basketball poll. There are few differences between the UPI and AP polls, except that Hamilton Garfield, not mentioned by AP, is fourth in the UPI rankings.

MIDLAND'S Norm Vanlier led St. Francis in its loss to Duquesne Wednesday night with 21 points. The St. Francis freshmen snapped a 23-game winning streak by the Duquesne freshmen with an 84-81 win in the preliminary. The loss was the first in 22 games as freshman coach for East Liverpool's Al Bailey. Mickey Davis of Monaca led the Duke frosh with 24 points.

MANNY JIMENEZ, who played for the Pirates last season, was sent to Tacoma of the Pacific Coast League for Pitcher Chuck Hartenstein and infielder Ron Campbell, both of whom played for the Cubs briefly. They are assigned to the Columbus roster but will train with the Pirates.

ITS A LONG way until state tournament time, but an interesting match near the finals would be unbeaten Marlington vs. unbeaten Lima Bath. The Stark County Dukes are led by 6-11 Luke Witte, averageing 35 points a game, while the Lima team is led by 6-11 Jim Andrews, averaging 34 points a game.

BEAVER LOCAL'S Bill Barnhart, who recently became eligible for varsity competition at Youngstate State, is averaging 8.5 points a game in four contests. He is hitting 45 per cent of his field goal attempts. He is also averaging 11.5 rebounds a game, an average bettered on the squad only by 6-7 Will Teague.

ANDY WARBEL of Springfield (Jefferson), a freshman at Mount Union, is wrestling on the varsity in the 152-pound class for the Purple Raiders.

O. J. SIMPSON, Southern Cal's All-America halfback, has been named "Man of the Year" by Sport Magazine. The magazine also named Earl Monroe of the Baltimore Bullets as the "All-Sports Rookie of the Year".

For the second week in a row, there is a seasonal high of basketball games in the area this weekend.

There are 14 games tonight and 10 tomorrow for a total of 24, two more than last weekend. The total includes a pair for East Liverpool and a pair for the East Liverpool branch of Kent State U.

The Kent Staters, seeking their first win after nine losses, host New Philadelphia at 7:30 tonight and travel to Salem for a 2 p. m. game tomorrow. Mike Piatt paces Merrill Hall's caggers with a 20.7 per game average, while Bill Fisher is hitting 15.0, Jim Reede 14.8 and Mark Powell 13.1. Nick Lukacena rounds out the starting five, giving Kent an all-Buckeye Border Conference alumni quint. Piatt and Reese are from Beaver Local, Fisher and Lukacena from Toronto and Powell from Wellsville. Dave Pridemore of East Liverpool is another valuable backcourter on the squad.

Beaver Local is in action twice in the Buckeye Border Conference, hosting Wellsville tonight and traveling to Springfield tomorrow. Coach Lloyd Stockdale's outfit has been plagued by a series of misfortunes, notably the knee injury suffered by Bob Flint. The Beavers are 2-8 and have dropped six in a row. Dave Mason, scoring 19.6, is the lone bright spot.

WELLSVILLE, 8-2 is hoping to repeat its season - opening 75-58 win over the Beavers. The league-leading Tigers of Bob Dawson are paced by John Bobalik, hitting 20.2 a game, Bill Miller at 12.6 and Joe D'Angelo at 12.0.

Springfield, picked to be a conference power, has been somewhat of a disappointment. Bob Raber's Flying Tigers are 4-5 overall, 2-3 in the league and have dropped their last three. Jack McConnaughy is the toughest Tiger.

Midland travels to Rochester for an important Section 6 game. The Leopards share the section lead with Monaca, as both have 4-0 marks. Rochester is 2-2 in the league after being stunned by Seneca Valley 70-61 Tuesday. Rochester is 7-5 overall, Midland 9-3. Charles (Tilt) Willis leads a veteran Ram crew. George Green and Greg Vanlier are both averaging 14.6 a game for Midland, with Howard Leak close behind at 12.3.

Oak Glen, 3-6, travels to Wellsburg, 5-4. The Orange Knights took an 81-66 decision at Oak Glen earlier. Jim Carnes at 16.6 leads Jack McDevitt's Golden Bears.

Tri-County League leader Poland is idle tonight, but East Leetonia hosts Columbiana and Lisbon is at Minerva in league games.

Sebring is 8-1 after being upset by Leetonia last week, but is still ranked fourth among the state's Class A teams. Greg Wilson is averaging 19.8 and Joe Bowers 18.0 for the Trojans. East Palestine is 3-6, 2-2 in the league, and a loss at Sebring would dim their hopes to repeat as titlists. Joe Lewis at 17.9 and Terry Lipp at 16.1 pace the Bulldogs.

LEETONIA, 5-4, is led by Ed Casey and Allen Gibson, each averaging 20.2. Columbiana, 1-9, has Gary Gregg at 12.1, Jim Hinerman at 11.6, Frank Ringel at 11.3 and Dave Reash at 11.1.

Lisbon, 4-5, is well matched with Minerva, 4-6. Both are 2-2 in league play. Minerva coach Scott Schick is worried about Andy Battista, who sparked two wins for the Lions last weekend. Battista has the flu. Lisbon is led by Jim Courtney at 18.2, Dave McCamon at 11.3, Lee Smith at 11.0 and Jim Taylor at 10.3.

Crestview travels to Lowellville for an Inter-County League battle. The Rebels are 6-4, their hosts 5-3. Don Kaiser's club gets balanced scoring from Keith Chamberlin at 13.4, Ron Athey at 12.0, Mark Chellis at 11.4 and Chip McConville at 10.3.

United Local, 6-3, hosts Malvern. Jack Mills at 22.8 and Steve Cope at 17.1 lead the Golden Eagles.

Southern Local travels to West Branch. Al Girone's Indians, fresh from a 62-59 upset of Springfield, are 2-9 overall. West Branch is 5-6. The only common opponent has been Lisbon, which downed Southern 85-63 and lost to West Branch 55-52. Rob Carter is scoring 20.5 for the Indians.

Stanton, 2-8 hopes to break a six-game losing streak against Jefferson Union, 5-4. The Yellowjackets won 64-59 at home, but the Red Raiders hope for revenge on their own floor. Dave Olesky at 18.6 and Tim Logan at 12.6 lead Dave Murray's team.

SOUTH SIDE takes a break from Section 17 action to host Bellevue. The visitors are tied for the Section 15 lead with a 2-1 mark, but are only 5-7 overall. South Side is 2-9. Dan McNary, back in action after an injury, paces John Nace's team with 11.9 points, while Doug Williamson adds 10.3.

Western Beaver also plays a Section 15 team, traveling to Neville Island. The Islanders are likewise tied for the section lead, and are 5-4 overall. Western, 4-7, is paced by John Petchel at 12.5 and Chuck Kelker at 12.4.

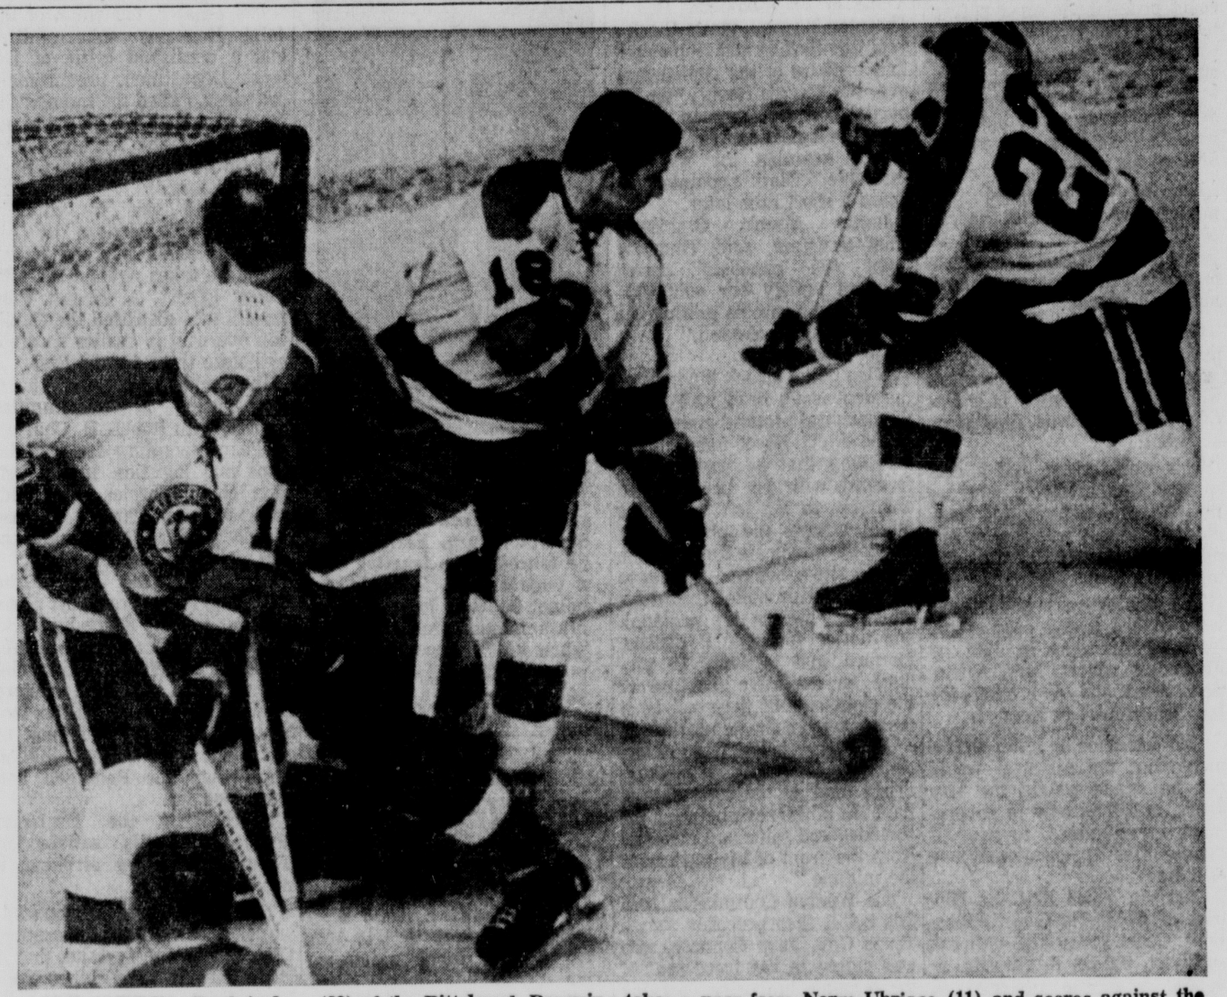

Saturday the Tri-County match-ups have Sebring at Lisbon, Minerva at East Palestine and Poland at Columbiana. The Bulldogs are 6-4 overall, but have won five of their last six in taking the league lead.

United travels to North Lima, 8-2. The Zippers, leading the Inter-County League, boast 6-6 Bill McMeans.

Crestview returns home to host Jackson-Milton.

Southern returns to Buckeye Border Conference play by hosting Toronto. The Red Knights have evened their record at 5-5 by winning their last three games. Toronto dumped Southern 88-63 at Toronto earlier.

Stanton stays home and hosts Smithfield. The Smithies, 4-5, whipped the Red Raiders 82-48 at Smithfield last week.

ABLE ANDREA. Paul Andrea (22) of the Pittsburgh Penguins takes a pass from Norm Ubriaco (11) and scores against the Detroit Red Wings at the Pittsburgh Civic Arena last night. Others in the play are Wally Boyer (18) and Bob Baun of Detroit. Detroit goalie Roy Edwards is hidden behind the players in the goal mouth. Detroit won 3-2. (UPI Telephoto)

Kings Upset Hawks; Penguins Lose

By The Associated Press

The Los Angeles Kings had too many men on the ice in the second period of Thursday night's National Hockey League game with Chicago, but the Black Hawks were the ones who suffered.

The penalty against the Kings, served by Howie Menard, backfired when LA's Lowell MacDonald scored 25 seconds later to tie the score at 1-1. And it was a third-period goal by Menard that proved to be the winner in the Kings' 3-2 victory.

In other action, Boston trounced Minnesota 5-1, Montreal blanked Philadelphia 4-0 and Detroit nipped Pittsburgh 3-2.

Ken Wharram's first-period goal had given the Hawks a 1-0 lead, but MacDonald knotted it at 14:16 of the second and Howie Hughes put the Kings ahead at 16:09, just 18 seconds after Menard came out of the penalty box.

Menard then clinched it by scoring from in close with 11 minutes left, offsetting a late goal by Chicago's Dennis Hull. The Kings poured 39 shots at Chicago goalie Denis DeJordy while the Hawks managed 19 at Gerry Desjardins.

Ken Hodge fired his 19th and 20th goals and Phil Esposito got his 27th in leading the torrid Bruins past hapless Minnesota. Ed Westfall and Johnny Bucyk also scored for the Bruins, beaten only once in their last 16 games, while Ray Cullen, recovered from a broken ankle, got the Minnesota goal.

The North Stars, outshot 17-1 in the first period and 40-14 for the game, have lost seven straight and are winless in 13 games.

Montreal remained two points behind Boston in the East Division as Bobby Rousseau scored two goals and one assist and goalie Rogatien Vachon kicked out 25 Philadelphia shots. Yvan Cournoyer and John Ferguson also scored for the Canadiens, who shut out the Flyers for the third time this season, each time with a different goalie.

Detroit stretched its winning streak to six games by edging Pittsburgh on Pete Stemkowski's tie-breaking goal early in the second period. Alex Delvecchio and Gordie Howe were the other Red Wing marksmen while Paul Andrea and Val Fonteyne tallied for the Penguins.

It was Howe's 20th goal, the 20th consecutive year the 40-year-old wonder has reached that level, and his 708th regular season goal.

Lunn Leads Parbreakers In Kaiser Open Golf Play

NAPA, Calif., (AP) — The second day of action in the $135,000 Kaiser International Open Golf Tournament was launched at Silverado Country Club Today with expectations that the $27,000 first prize was still very much up for grabs. And many were trying to grab it.

Out of 156 golfers in the first rounds of action Thursday, no less than 64 scored under par and 82 of the total field had par or better.

Leading going into today's action with a 65, seven under par, was 23-year-old Bob Lunn of Sacramento, Calif., who seemingly could do no wrong Thursday. He attributed his good showing to his work on the greens, but then he really didn't have much problem otherwise. Playing on the North course, he had 34 for the first nine and 31 for the second.

Jacky Cupit was close on his heels with a 66, with U.S. Open champion Lee Trevino, Miller Barber and Dave Hill ending the first day of play with 68.

Twelve of the players had 69 —John McMullin, Arnold Palmer, Johnny Stevens, Orville Moody, Jack Montgomery, Bob McCallister, Gene Littler, Tony Jacklin, George Knudson, Dow Finsterwald, Bruce Devlin and Harold Henning.

Columbia Tops Niagara Despite Murphy's 47

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

Five of the nation's leading college basketball scorers were in action Thursday night but the quintet the Santa Clara Broncos put on the court had much better results.

Niagara's Calvin Murphy, Creighton's Bob Portman, Charley Powell of New Orleans Loyola and Furman's Dick Esleeck couldn't lead their teams to victory, but the unbeaten and third-ranked Broncos kept bucking along, whipping the University of California at Santa Barbara 80-69 for their 15th straight.

Dennis Awtery, Santa Clara's 6-foot-9 center, poured in 30 points and the Ogden brothers, Bud and Ralph, had 18 apiece as the Broncos ran their West Coast athletic Conference record to 4-0.

The only other team in The Associated Press' Top Twenty to see action was 20th-ranked Colorado State U., which crushed the Air Force 83-65.

Lloyd Kerr hit seven consecutive points late in the first half to put the Rams ahead and they poured it on after the intermission for their 10th win in 12 games. Cliff Shegogg took scoring honors with 21 points and Kerr added 14.

Niagara's Murphy, the country's second leading scorer, exploded for 47 points but the Purple Eagles fell to once-beaten Columbia 107-84. The outburst raised Murphy's season average to 35.9 but Pete Maravich of Louisiana State leads with 45.5.

Despite the 47 points, it was Murphy's second poorest shooting night of the season. The flashy 5-10 junior made only 13 of 40 floor shots but added 21 of 22 free throws as Bruce Metz, Elliott Wolfe and Heyward Dotson took turns guarding him. Jim McMillian, Roger Wallaszek and Dotson had 29, 26 and 20 points respectively for Columbia.

Utah State's Marv Roberts, the No. 7 scorer, connected for 27 points as the Aggies downed Denver 102-87.

Arizona held Portman to 17 points as the Wildcats won their seventh consecutive game, beating Creighton 72-63. The nation's eighth leading scorer saw his average drop from 27.5 to 26.5.

Powell had the poorest night of the five individuals, managing only seven points in Loyola's 74-54 loss to Memphis State. Furman's Esleeck was held to 15 as the Paladins bowed to Clemson 91-70.

In other major games, Utah shaded New Mexico 77-76, Brigham Young downed Wyoming 89-78, San Jose State walloped San Francisco 71-58 and Tulane topped Miami of Florida 90-79.

Oaks, 24 Down, Rally To Edge Miami Floridians

By The Associated Press

The Oakland Oaks had to rally from a 24 point deficit, but finally kept their 14 game American Basketball Association victory string intact.

Henry Logan broke through a layup with two seconds remaining for the basket that broke a tie and gave the Oaks a 131-129 victory over Miami on the West Coast Thursday night.

The Floridians led 41-20 at the quarter, 68-57 at the half and 100-92 at the end of the third period. Don Freeman of Miami led all scorers with 39 points, while Warren Armstrong had 35 for Oakland.

In other action Houston beat Minnesota 128-121 in double overtime, New Orleans handed Denver its worst defeat since joining the ABA, 136-106, and the New York Nets continued their losing ways by bowing to Indiana 96-94.

Willie Somerset's two free throws and a basket by Leary Lentz moved Houston ahead of Minnesota for good in the second overtime.

Kings Upset Hawks; Penguins Lose

By The Associated Press

The Los Angeles Kings had too many men on the ice in the second period of Thursday night's National Hockey League game with Chicago, but the Black Hawks were the ones who suffered.

The penalty against the Kings, served by Howie Menard, backfired when LA's Lowell MacDonald scored 25 seconds later to tie the score at 1-1. And it was a third-period goal by Menard that proved to be the winner in the Kings' 3-2 victory.

In other action, Boston trounced Minnesota 5-1, Montreal blanked Philadelphia 4-0 and Detroit nipped Pittsburgh 3-2.

Ken Wharram's first-period goal had given the Hawks a 1-0 lead, but MacDonald knotted it at 14:16 of the second and Howie Hughes put the Kings ahead at 16:09, just 18 seconds after Menard came out of the penalty box.

Menard then clinched it by scoring from in close with 11 minutes left, offsetting a late goal by Chicago's Dennis Hull. The Kings poured 39 shots at Chicago goalie Denis DeJordy while the Hawks managed 19 at Gerry Desjardins.

Ken Hodge fired his 19th and 20th goals and Phil Esposito got his 27th in leading the torrid Bruins past hapless Minnesota. Ed Westfall and Johnny Bucyk also scored for the Bruins, beaten only once in their last 16 games, while Ray Cullen, recovered from a broken ankle, got the Minnesota goal.

The North Stars, outshot 17-1 in the first period and 40-14 for the game, have lost seven straight and are winless in 13 games.

Montreal remained two points behind Boston in the East Division as Bobby Rousseau scored two goals and one assist and goalie Rogatien Vachon kicked out 25 Philadelphia shots. Yvan Cournoyer and John Ferguson also scored for the Canadiens, who shut out the Flyers for the third time this season, each time with a different goalie.

Detroit stretched its winning streak to six games by edging Pittsburgh on Pete Stemkowski's tie-breaking goal early in the second period. Alex Delvecchio and Gordie Howe were the other Red Wing marksmen while Paul Andrea and Val Fonteyne tallied for the Penguins.

It was Howe's 20th goal, the 20th consecutive year the 40-year-old wonder has reached that level, and his 708th regular season goal.

Santa Clara Rolls

Columbia Tops Niagara Despite Murphy's 47

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

Five of the nation's leading college basketball scorers were in action Thursday night but the quintet the Santa Clara Broncos put on the court had much better results.

Niagara's Calvin Murphy, Creighton's Bob Portman, Charley Powell of New Orleans Loyola and Furman's Dick Esleeck couldn't lead their teams to victory, but the unbeaten and third-ranked Broncos kept bucking along, whipping the University of California at Santa Barbara 80-69 for their 15th straight.

Dennis Awtery, Santa Clara's 6-foot-9 center, poured in 30 points and the Ogden brothers, Bud and Ralph, had 18 apiece as the Broncos ran their West Coast athletic Conference record to 4-0.

The only other team in The Associated Press' Top Twenty to see action was 20th-ranked Colorado State U., which crushed the Air Force 83-65.

Lloyd Kerr hit seven consecutive points late in the first half to put the Rams ahead and they poured it on after the intermission for their 10th win in 12 games. Cliff Shegogg took scoring honors with 21 points and Kerr added 14.

Niagara's Murphy, the country's second leading scorer, exploded for 47 points but the Purple Eagles fell to once-beaten Columbia 107-84. The outburst raised Murphy's season average to 35.9 but Pete Maravich of Louisiana State leads with 45.5.

Despite the 47 points, it was Murphy's second poorest shooting night of the season. The flashy 5-10 junior made only 13 of 40 floor shots but added 21 of 22 free throws as Bruce Metz, Elliott Wolfe and Heyward Dotson took turns guarding him. Jim McMillian, Roger Walaszek and Dotson had 29, 26 and 20 points respectively for Columbia.

Utah State's Marv Roberts, the No. 7 scorer, connected for 27 points as the Aggies downed Denver 102-87.

Arizona held Portman to 17 points as the Wildcats won their seventh consecutive game, beating Creighton 72-63. The nation's eighth leading scorer saw his average drop from 27.5 to 26.5.

Powell had the poorest night of the five individuals, managing only seven points in Loyola's 74-54 loss to Memphis State. Furman's Esleeck was held to 15 as the Paladins bowed to Clemson 91-70.

In other major games, Utah shaded New Mexico 77-76, Brigham Young downed Wyoming 89-78, San Jose State walloped San Francisco 71-58 and Tulane topped Miami of Florida 90-79.

Oaks, 24 Down, Rally To Edge Miami Floridians

By The Associated Press

The Oakland Oaks had to rally from a 24 point deficit, but finally kept their 14 game American Basketball Association victory string intact.

Henry Logan broke through a layup with two seconds remaining for the basket that broke a tie and gave the Oaks a 131-129 victory over Miami on the West Coast Thursday night.

The Floridians led 41-20 at the quarter, 68-57 at the half and 100-92 at the end of the third period. Don Freeman of Miami led all scorers with 39 points, while Warren Armstrong had 35 for Oakland.

In other action Houston beat Minnesota 128-121 in double overtime, New Orleans handed Denver its worst defeat since joining the ABA, 136-106, and the New York Nets continued their losing ways by bowing to Indiana 96-94.

Willie Somerset's two free throws and a basket by Leary Lentz moved Houston ahead of Minnesota for good in the second overtime.

Lunn Leads Parbreakers In Kaiser Open Golf Play

NAPA, Calif., (AP) — The second day of action in the $135,000 Kaiser International Open Golf Tournament was launched at Silverado Country Club Today with expectations that the $27,000 first prize was still very much up for grabs. And many were trying to grab it.

Out of 156 golfers in the first rounds of action Thursday, no less than 64 scored under par and 82 of the total field had par or better.

Leading going into today's action with a 65, seven under par, was 23-year-old Bob Lunn of Sacramento, Calif., who seemingly could do no wrong Thursday. He attributed his good showing to his work on the greens, but then he really didn't have much problem otherwise. Playing on the North course, he had 34 for the first nine and 31 for the second.

Jacky Cupit was close on his heels with a 66, with U.S. Open champion Lee Trevino, Miller Barber and Dave Hill ending the first day of play with 68.

Twelve of the players had 69—John McMullin, Arnold Palmer, Johnny Stevens, Orville Moody, Jack Montgomery, Bob McCallister, Gene Littler, Tony Jacklin, George Knudson, Dow Finsterwald, Bruce Devlin and Harold Henning.

ABA Injunction Denied

Hudson In NBA To Stay, Helps Hawks Down Suns

By The Associated Press

Thursday was Lou Hudson's day in and on the court.

First, a federal judge in Greensboro, N.C., denied an injunction sought by the Miami Floridians of the American Basketball Association to prevent Hudson from playing with the National Basketball Association's Atlanta Hawks.

Then, the 6-foot-5 Hudson went out on the Carolina Coliseum court in Columbia, S.C., and scored 23 points as the Hawks beat the Phoenix Suns 112-107.

Elsewhere, San Francisco walloped Chicago 112-99 and Cincinnati turned back San Diego 120-109.

"I'm relieved," Hudson said after hearing the federal court ruling. "I've been playing with the same guys for three years and adjusting to them on and off the court. If the decision had gone the other way, I would have had to make the adjustment all over again."

Hudson had signed contracts in 1967 with both the Hawks and the Minnesota Muskies, forerunners of the Floridians. The court said the Muskies, "knowing that Hudson was under a moral, if not a legal obligation to furnish his services" to the Hawks, "induced him to repudiate his obligation."

Zelmo Beaty led the Atlanta scoring with 28 points as the Hawks climbed to within two games of first-place Los Angeles in the NBA's Western Division.

Jeff Mullins scored 15 of his 29 points in the third period as San Francisco overpowered Chicago. The victory enabled the Warriors to break a fourth-place tie with San Diego and pull within a half-game of Chicago in the West.

Nate Thurmond chipped in with 24 points while Bob Boozer paced the Bulls with 23.

Cincinnati broke a four-game losing streak, longest of the season, as Tom Van Arsdale scored nine consecutive points to open the fourth quarter and give the Royals a 101-95 lead. Jerry Lucas, Oscar Robertson and Van Arsdale sparked the Royals with 27, 26 and 24 points respectively while Elvin Hayes. the league's leading scorer, netted 38 for the Rockets.

Hialeah Starts Today

Tropical Meeting Ends With Million A Day Bet

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Hialeah, the "Track Beautiful," launched the rich middle section of South Florida's thoroughbred horse racing season today, taking over after a record-setting splurge at Tropical Park.

The first million-dollar-a-day meeting in Tropical's history ended Thursday as Mr. Brogann, a 25-1 long shot, raced through a jam-packed field of 17 horses to win the $70,000 Tropical Park Handicap.

During a 52-day season, including 12 days run for charity, Tropical hosted 469,220 bettors who put $52,916,102 through the pari-mutuel windows.

For the regular 40 days, attendance was 359,737 and betting was $42,669,865.

Mr. Brogann, grabbing the lead on the first turn and holding it all the way under jockey Charles Baltazar, won a purse of $45,500 for his owner, Mrs. J.L. Greer, and paid $57.60, $18.40 and $13.

Out The Window, ridden by Henry Moreno, came in second, 3½ lengths behind and paid $10 and $9.

Tropic King II, making his North American debut under his regular rider William Carrian, returned $11.80 to show.

Hialeah opened with the 39th running of the $25,000 added Royal Poyciana, a six-furlong feature for older horses.

Highest weights of 124 pounds were assigned to More Cents and Pappa Steve. Bold Ruler carried 123 pounds, Royal Exchange 120, and American Native 115.

The 40-day Hialeah program concludes March 4 with the $100,000 Flamingo Stakes.

The $25,000 added Jasmine, a six-furling test for 3-year-old fillies is the Saturday feature.

The top race on the national card is the $50,000 San Fernando Stakes at Santa Anita. The 1¼ miles feature is the last major race for 4-year-olds before the $100,000 added Charles H. Strub Stakes two weeks away.

Nodouble, one of the nation's better 3-year-olds in 1968, will make his debut in the San Fernando and is a possible favorite.

The other major races are $22,000 E. Palmer Heagerty Stakes at seven furlongs at Bowie, and the $12,500 Black Gold Handicap over six furlongs at New Orleans' Fair Grounds.

Allen Cites McNeil

West Banks On Speed In Pro Bowl Contest

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Speed may be the key if the west is to outscore the east, in Sunday's National Football League All-Star game in Memorial Coliseum.

West Coach George Allen of the Los Angeles Rams worked with his several swift performers Friday as workouts fased off for both his squad and the East, piloted by Tom Landry of the Dallas Cowboys.

"We have great speed in the receiving positions, more so than last year, and nothing is more important than that in an all-star game," Allen observed.

He singled out for particular attention Clifton McNeil of the San Francisco 49ers, the League's leading pass receiver. The slender fellow, a Cleveland castoff, caught 71 passes for 995 yards and scored seven touchdowns.

Allen has only to go back to the 49er - Ram exhibition game last season when McNeil early in the evening shocked his team with a 94-yard touchdown run on a flip from John Brodie.

The names of Carroll Dale of the Green Bay Packers, a former Ram before Allen came here, who oddly enough is playing in his first Pro Bowl contest, and Willie Richardson of the Baltimore Colts, were ticked off by the coach.

Also mentioned with frank admiration was Baltimore's John Mackey, who for this 224-pound size is astonishly fast and once in motion, as difficult to haul down as a runaway steer.

Allen confirmed that Baltimore's Earl Morrall will start at quarterback.

"There are two reasons why I want Earl in there," he said. "First, he's the Player of the Year in the National Football League. You don't get an honor like that without earning it.

"Second, of all the quarterbacks I've defensed, nobody does a better job of mixing up play. Earl has a very good sense for the mix—by which I mean runs passes, draws and screens. He also throws the ball well."

The Ram's Roman Gabriel will alternate with Morrall. Allen noted that Gabriel has had two fine back-to-back seasons. Not too many quarterbacks achieve this, he concluded.

AFL All-Star Game Seen High-Scoring

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — A wide open scoring affair with footballs fillng the air was the forecast today for Sunday's American Football League All-Star game matching the best of the East against the elite of the West in the Gator Bowl.

With the exception of Matt Snell, New York Jets' running star in last Sunday's Super Bowl victory, coaches Hank Stram of Kansas City and Wally Lemm of Houston have at their command the leading ground gainers of the season. For some reason, Snell didn't receive a single vote for the All-Star team.

Twenty-two players, 11 offensive and 11 defense, were selected by the league's 10 coaches. The other 11 players on each squad were picked by Stram and Lemm.

But one need only look at the quarterbacks and pass receivers to realize that the story of this game will be written in the air.

Joe Namath, who directed the Jets to their Super Bowl victory over the Baltimore Colts of the National League, will share the helm of the East with Bob Griese of the Miami Dolphins.

When Namath is calling signals you can bet that his two favorite receivers, Don Maynard and George Sauer, Jr., will be on the field.

Maynard smashed pro football records during the regular season when he gained 1,297 yards for an average of 22.8 yards a play. He didn't catch a pass in the Super Bowl game, but he was a decoy as Sauer grabbed eight of Namath's throws for 133 yards.

John Hadl of San Diego will quarterback the west through the first half with Kansas City's Len Dawson taking over in the second period. Hadl will have an even better numerical advantage. Three of his pass catching teammates—Lance Alworth, Gary Garrison and Jacque MacKinnon—will be at Stram's beck and call.

ABA Injunction Denied

Hudson In NBA To Stay, Helps Hawks Down Suns

By The Associated Press

Thursday was Lou Hudson's day in and on the court.

First, a federal judge in Greensboro, N.C., denied an injunction sought by the Miami Floridians of the American Basketball Association to prevent Hudson from playing with the National Basketball Association's Atlanta Hawks.

Then, the 6-foot-5 Hudson went out on the Carolina Coliseum court in Columbia, S.C., and scored 23 points as the Hawks beat the Phoenix Suns 112-107.

Elsewhere, San Francisco walloped Chicago 112-99 and Cincinnati turned back San Diego 120-109.

"I'm relieved," Hudson said after hearing the federal court ruling. "I've been playing with the same guys for three years and adjusting to them on and off the court. If the decision had gone the other way, I would have had to make the adjustment all over again."

Hudson had signed contracts in 1967 with both the Hawks and the Minnesota Muskies, forerunners of the Floridians. The court said the Muskies, "knowing that Hudson was under a moral, if not a legal obligation to furnish his services" to the Hawks, "induced him to repudiate his obligation."

Zelmo Beaty led the Atlanta scoring with 28 points as the Hawks climbed to within two games of first-place Los Angeles in the NBA's Western Division.

Jeff Mullins scored 15 of his 29 points in the third period as San Francisco overpowered Chicago. The victory enabled the Warriors to break a fourth-place tie with San Diego and pull within a half-game of Chicago in the West.

Nate Thurmond chipped in with 24 points while Bob Boozer paced the Bulls with 23.

Cincinnati broke a four-game losing streak, longest of the season, as Tom Van Arsdale scored nine consecutive points to open the fourth quarter and give the Royals a 101-95 lead. Jerry Lucas, Oscar Robertson and Van Arsdale sparked the Royals with 27, 26 and 24 points respectively while Elvin Hayes, the league's leading scorer, netted 38 for the Rockets.

Hialeah Starts Today

Tropical Meeting Ends With Million A Day Bet

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Hialeah, the "Track Beautiful," launched the rich middle section of South Florida's thoroughbred horse racing season today, taking over after a record-setting splurge at Tropical Park.

The first million-dollar-a-day meeting in Tropical's history ended Thursday as Mr. Brogann, a 25-1 long shot, raced through a jam-packed field of 17 horses to win the $70,000 Tropical Park Handicap.

During a 52-day season, including 12 days run for charity, Tropical hosted 469,220 bettors who put $52,916,102 through the pari-mutuel windows.

For the regular 40 days, attendance was 359,737 and betting was $42,669,865.

Mr. Brogann, grabbing the lead on the first turn and holding it all the way under jockey Charles Baltazar, won a purse of $45,500 for his owner, Mrs. J.L. Greer, and paid $57.60, $18.40 and $13.

Out The Window, ridden by Henry Moreno, came in second, 3½ lengths behind and paid $10 and $9.

Tropic King II, making his North American debut under his regular rider William Carrian, returned $11.80 to show.

Hialeah opened with the 39th running of the $25,000 added Royal Poyciana, a six-furlong feature for older horses.

Highest weights of 124 pounds were assigned to More Cents and Pappa Steve. Bold Ruler carried 123 pounds, Royal Exchange 120, and American Native 115.

The 40-day Hialeah program concludes March 4 with the $100,000 Flamingo Stakes.

The $25,000 added Jasmine, a six-furling test for 3-year-old fillies is the Saturday feature.

The top race on the national card is the $50,000 San Fernando Stakes at Santa Anita. The 1¼ miles feature is the last major race for 4-year-olds before the $100,000 added Charles H. Strub Stakes two weeks away.

Nodouble, one of the nation's better 3-year-olds in 1968, will make his debut in the San Fernando and is a possible favorite.

The other major races are $22,000 E. Palmer Heagerty Stakes at seven furlongs at Bowie, and the $12,500 Black Gold Handicap over six furlongs at New Orleans' Fair Grounds.

Allen Cites McNeil

West Banks On Speed In Pro Bowl Contest

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Speed may be the key if the west is to outscore the east, in Sunday's National Football League All-Star game in Memorial Coliseum.

West Coach George Allen of the Los Angeles Rams worked with his several swift performers Friday as workouts fased off for both his squad and the East, piloted by Tom Landry of the Dallas Cowboys.

"We have great speed in the receiving positions, more so than last year, and nothing is more important than that in an all-star game," Allen observed.

He singled out for particular attention Clifton McNeil of the San Francisco 49ers, the League's leading pass receiver. The slender fellow, a Cleveland castoff, caught 71 passes for 995 yards and scored seven touchdowns.

Allen has only to go back to the 49er - Ram exhibition game last season when McNeil early in the evening shocked his team with a 94-yard touchdown run on a flip from John Brodie.

The names of Carroll Dale of the Green Bay Packers, a former Ram before Allen came here, who oddly enough is playing in his first Pro Bowl contest, and Willie Richardson of the Baltimore Colts, were ticked off by the coach.

Also mentioned with frank admiration was Baltimore's John Mackey, who for this 224-pound size is astonishly fast and once in motion, as difficult to haul down as a runaway steer.

Allen confirmed that Baltimore's Earl Morrall will start at quarterback.

"There are two reasons why I want Earl in there," he said. "First, he's the Player of the Year in the National Football League. You don't get an honor like that without earning it.

"Second, of all the quarterbacks I've defensed, nobody does a better job of mixing up play. Earl has a very good sense for the mix—by which I mean runs passes, draws and screens. He also throws the ball well."

The Ram's Roman Gabriel will alternate with Morrall. Allen noted that Gabriel has had two fine back-to-back seasons. Not too many quarterbacks achieve this, he concluded.

JOHN RAUCH

John Rauch Named Coach At Buffalo

OAKLAND (AP) — Coach John Rauch and the Oakland Raiders announced late Thursday night that he has accepted the head coaching position with the Buffalo Bills. Both teams are in the American Football League.

Rauch is going from a team which he coached into the Super Bowl a year ago and to the AFL's Western Division championship in 1968 to the AFL's losingest 1968 member.

At Buffalo, he can expect to have O.J. Simpson, Southern California's Heisman Trophy winning, yard-eating back. Buffalo has the No. 1 draft draw.

Rauch was coach of the year 1967 with the Raiders and his quarterback Daryle Lamonca was AFL Player of the Year.

Rauch, 41, has been with the Raiders six years, three as assistant and three as head coach.

The announcement of his switch to Buffalo was made by telephone to some sports writers who were given his home telephone number.

AFL All-Star Game Seen High-Scoring

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — A wide open scoring affair with footballs fillng the air was the forecast today for Sunday's American Football League All-Star game matching the best of the East against the elite of the West in the Gator Bowl.

With the exception of Matt Snell, New York Jets' running star in last Sunday's Super Bowl victory, coaches Hank Stram of Kansas City and Wally Lemm of Houston have at their command the leading ground gainers of the season. For some reason, Snell didn't receive a single vote for the All-Star team.

Twenty-two players, 11 offensive and 11 defense, were selected by the league's 10 coaches. The other 11 players on each squad were picked by Stram and Lemm.

But one need only look at the quarterbacks and pass receivers to realize that the story of this game will be written in the air.

Joe Namath, who directed the Jets to their Super Bowl victory over the Baltimore Colts of the National League, will share the helm of the East with Bob Griese of the Miami Dolphins.

When Namath is calling signals you can bet that his two favorite receivers, Don Maynard and George Sauer, Jr., will be on the field.

Maynard smashed pro football records during the regular season when he gained 1,297 yards for an average of 22.8 yards a play. He didn't catch a pass in the Super Bowl game, but he was a decoy as Sauer grabbed eight of Namath's throws for 133 yards.

John Hadl of San Diego will quarterback the west through the first half with Kansas City's Len Dawson taking over in the second period. Hadl will have an even better numerical advantage. Three of his pass catching teammates—Lance Alworth, Gary Garrison and Jacque MacKinnon—will be at Stram's beck and call.

America by Austin.
The first car built to be a second car.

Up until now, you didn't have much choice when it came to a second car.

You could buy a new one—and lay out a big hunk of cash. Or you could settle for a used one—and spend a bundle trying to fix it up.

It's roomy without being big. Economical without being small. Dependable without being lifeless.

If the America sounds like a perfect second car, it should. It's built that way.

Junior Editors Quiz on SHIPS

QUESTION: How can a heavy ship stay on top of the water?

* * *

ANSWER: Long ago, the Greek mathematician Archimedes was also thrilled by this question, and provided a simple and thrilling answer. Archimedes said every object put in water displaces or pushes aside an amount of water equal to its own size or bulk. In (A) a rock falls into water; the water displaced is shown above the surface. In (B), the small arrows at bottom represent a force that is pushing up on the rock. This force, called buoyancy, is exactly equal to the weight of the volume of water the rock has displaced. But there is another force, pulling the rock down. This is the rock's own weight, represented by the larger arrow. Which of these forces will win out? If we could weight the rock and the water it has displaced as in (C), we would find the rock is heavier. Therefore, the rock's weight overcomes its buoyancy force; so it sinks. But a ship is not solid like a rock. It is a hollow shell. As shown at bottom, in (F), its weight is less than the water it is displacing in (D). Thus, the buoyancy force wins out over gravity, (E), and holds the ship on the surface.

(Zella Butler of Richmond, Va., wins a prize for this question. You can win $10 cash plus AP's handsome World Yearbook if your question, mailed to Junior Editors in care of this newspaper, is selected for a prize.)

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1949 the trial of 11 top ranking Communists in the United States, charged with plotting the overthrow of the federal government, began in New York.

On this date—

In 1706, Benjamin Franklin, American statesman, inventor and philosopher, was born.

In 1917, the United States bought the Virgin Islands from Denmark.

In 1950, nine men, wearing Halloween masks, held up a Brink's armored car in Boston and escaped with $1 million in cash and $500,000 in checks, the largest cash robbery in the nation's history.

In 1955, the atomic submarine Nautilus began first sea tests in Long Island Sound.

In 1962, 10 prize winning contestants of the so-called rigged television quiz shows received suspended sentences in Special Sessions Court in New York after pleading guilty to perjury charges.

In 1963, President John F. Kennedy sent to Congress a proposed budget calling for the biggest spending program in history—$98.8 billion for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1964.

Five years ago. . . . . France moved to recognize Communist China, despite efforts of the United States to dissuade her.

Junior Editors Quiz on SHIPS

QUESTION: How can a heavy ship stay on top of the water?

* * *

ANSWER: Long ago, the Greek mathematician Archimedes was also thrilled by this question, and provided a simple and thrilling answer. Archimedes said every object put in water displaces or pushes aside an amount of water equal to its own size or bulk. In (A) a rock falls into water; the water displaced is shown above the surface. In (B), the small arrows at bottom represent a force that is pushing up on the rock. This force, called buoyancy, is exactly equal to the weight of the volume of water the rock has displaced. But there is another force, pulling the rock down. This is the rock's own weight, represented by the larger arrow. Which of these forces will win out? If we could weight the rock and the water it has displaced as in (C), we would find the rock is heavier. Therefore, the rock's weight overcomes its buoyancy force; so it sinks. But a ship is not solid like a rock. It is a hollow shell. As shown at bottom, in (F), its weight is less than the water it is displacing in (D). Thus, the buoyancy force wins out over gravity, (E), and holds the ship on the surface.

Stray Steeds Led Off Town Streets

DAVIE, Fla. (AP) — Big city police departments use a wrecker to tow traffic-blocking autos off the streets at $15 each and, in this South Florida ranching town, a horse catcher leads off stray steeds at the same price.

Davie, with narrow streets, some of them gravel, appears rustic, unlike Fort Lauderdale, its highly developed neighbor to the west. Davie is surrounded by pastures and livestock abounds.

Ranchers are upset about Police Chief Richard Nickel's version of the town dog catcher.

At a City Council meeting called to hear the gripes, rancher Carl Griffin—who paid $34 in bail and feed for two of his wandering ponies—was spokesman for 13 ranchers.

"I realize something has to be done to keep these animals off the highway," Griffin said. "But the man who picks up the horses should be a city employe, not a free-lancer profiting from the fees."

He said an ambitious horse catcher on the fee system might start cutting fences.

"How did you set the price at $15, anyway?" Griffin asked Nickel.

"They charge $15 to tow in a wrecked auto from off the highway," the chief said.

"Yeah, but those guys have $10,000 invested in the wrecking trucks. Your man uses a rope," was the reply.

The current horse catcher, Reserve Policeman Les Tucker, also rounds up cattle who break out of their pens, also at $15 a head. He keeps strays in his own corral until their owners show up.

Mayor Betty Roberts, operator of a plant nursery told the councilmen stray cows can be bothersome.

"One day there were 150 head of cattle in my nursery. They'd eaten my plants and did $8,000 worth of damage," the mayor said.

Nickel said part of the problem was caused by children and weekend cowboys, city dwellers who keep their horses in untended pastures.

Councilmen postponed until Jan. 21 a decision on whether to abolish the horse catcher job.

Young, Saxbe Vote To Impose Cloture

WASHINGTON (AP) — Both Ohio senators, Democrat Stephen Young and Republican William Saxbe, voted Thursday for whether the Senate should have taken up a proposal to make it easier to end filibusters.

The vote was 51-47 for cloture.

A two-third majority ordinarily is needed to impose cloture but Vice President Hubert Humphrey held, in a ruling then overturned by the Senate, that a majority was sufficient.

Lima Residents Undergo Another Oil Leak Scare

LIMA, Ohio (AP) — As the last of some 6,000 evacuees returned to their homes Thursday, this Northern Ohio city of 60,000 underwent another oil leak scare.

An estimated 500 gallons of home heating oil overflowed from a Standard Oil Co. storage tank across the Ottawa River, near the site of a major pipeline break Monday that affected a 110-block area.

But workers moved quickly to stop the overflow, mop up the mess and prevent a recurrence of the crisis.

"When it rains, it pours," Mayor Christian Morris said.

He earlier lifted the state of emergency in effect four days, since a 22 - inch pipeline leak touched off fires and explosions that caused hundreds of thousands of dollars in damages.

Death Of Its President Brings Peace To College

By The Associated Press

The death of its president brought peace to racially troubled Swarthmore College today and officials of the University of Minnesota restored order in an administration building damaged by students in a 24-hour sit-in.

Still in turmoil, however, were San Francisco State College, where bombs came into play, and Brandeis University, where the campus communications center remained in the hands of 65 Negroes for the 10th day.

Dr. Courtney Craig Smith, 52, died of a heart attack in his office at Swarthmore Thursday, a day after naming a faculty committee to deal with Negro student demands for special racial privileges.

Because of his death 40 members of the Afro-American Student Society ended a one-week sitdown in the college admissions office and called a moratorium on discussions. They said they had not given up their demands.

President Malcolm C. Moos of the University of Minnesota said members of the Afro-American Action Committee and Students for a Democratic Society had caused $11,000 damage to furniture and records in an administration building which they had occupied Tuesday night and Wednesday.

Moos appointed a fact-finding committee to determine responsibility for the damage as a first step toward fixing possible punishment for the students.

At San Francisco State, where part of the faculty went on strike 10 days ago and the Black Students Union has been staging demonstrations for months, an unexploded time bomb was found Thursday near the office of President S.I. Hayakawa.

A smoke bomb forced the evacuation of two campus buildings and police detained a coed for questioning.

At Brandeis, 24 students who disrupted a classroom in a demonstration of support for the Negro rebels in control of the communications building signed a letter of apology.

The Negroes refused to budge from the communications center but the university restored campus communications by having telephone controls installed in another building.
